Studio Two Three is an energized and evolving artistic community that facilitates production, education and innovation in printmaking by providing an accessible workspace and engaging the public through workshops, exhibitions and outreach.

Part III, Line 28 - Artist Usage

S23 is the only fully equipped printmaking workshop in Richmond S23 provided 20 artists with 24-hour access to a professional studio with presses, basic tools, workspace for designing and executing prints, and personal lockers and flat files to store work and materials. S23 facilities support intaglio, relief, lithography, and screenprinting. S23 is also home to Safelight Community Darkroom, the only open-access communal darkroom for black and white photography in Richmond. By providing artists with an affordable, professional and supportive workspace, S23 enabled artists to explore and cultivate new work and engage in artistic dialogue with fellow artists in the Richmond community. S23 also offers open studio hours which enabled anyone interested to tour the facility, learn about the art of printmaking, and use the studio.

Part III, Line 29 - Workshops & Demonstrations

On the First Friday of every month, Studio Two Three offered a free printmaking workshop that allowed the public to participate in inventive experiences that involve personal creative expression. Individuals left each of these workshops with a piece of art that they have printed by hand. In addition to these workshops, Studio Two Three offers unique educational programs in which professional artists bring the art of printmaking to K-12 classrooms, nonprofit community organizations, galleries and museums, and other educational venues throughout Richmond. S23 also partnered with the Visual Arts Center to host etching classes, provide weekly letterpress instruction to the community, and offer the general public the opportunity to print their own hand-pulled posters at the first annual Print Harvest event.

Part III, Line 30 - Openings & Outreach

S23 focuses on cultivating and sustaining partnerships in the Richmond nonprofit community. S23's leadership is focused on offering the unique services available through the studio to valuably contribute to the arts programming offered by other local nonprofits. S23 partnered with Art180 to teach printmaking at the annual Jonny-Z Fest, as well as provided free printing services to help Art180 promote its programming for Richmond youth. Additionally, S23 has hosted the Visual Arts Center's A Space of Her Own (SOHO) program, teaching girls from Gilpin Court and their mentors the process of screenprinting, and enabling each girl to leave with her own hand-printed tote bag. S23 worked with Church Hill Academy, a nonprofit high school serving at-risk youth in Richmond city, to teach students various printmaking techniques every Friday afternoon. In this program, students learn not only technical skills, but to use their own creativity to make work expressing their lives and interests, included printed shirts and a large-scale mural to be publicly installed on a building in the students' community. S23's gallery facility, Gallery Two Three, is Richmond's primary source for fine art prints and features the work of exceptional local and national printmakers. Every month, Gallery Two Three featured an exhibit of innovative, professional contemporary prints. In January 2012, S23 improved its gallery facility to add 50% more exhibition space to better accommodate additional artist exhibitors. The Gallery takes no commission from exhibition sales, allowing individual artists to derive the largest benefit possible from the sale of their work and community members to become art patrons.
