C        E7    A7
I asked my wife to dogging
          D7        G7        C
But she wouldn't go dogging with me
C                    E7    A7
I think she thought I said jogging
          D7                            G7
Cos she laughed about you dodgy knee
So to cover myself
E7                    A7
I went on down to sports direct
D7                            G7
To buy myself a knee support
C                    E7        A7
I found somewhere to park and I waited till dark
D7            G7        C
Hoping that I didn't get caught

C        E7        A7
It wasn't long before a car pulled up
          D7        G7        C
And flashed its interior light
C                    E7        A7
I looked up the rules on my mobile phone
D7                            G7
Making sure I was reading it right
E7                    A7
One flash meant that you could look
D7                            G7
Two meant you could touch
C                    E7        A7
Three meant you could get in the back
D7            G7        C
Four meant that you could film it

C        E7    A7
Three flashes is the doggers code
D7    G7        C
For you to climb in the back

C E7 A7 D7 G7
I locked my car, I walked across, loosened my anorak
E7 A7
The windows were quite steamy
D7 G7
The door swung open wide
C E7
I took a deep breath
A7
I straightened my vest
D7 G7 C
And climbed inside

C E7 A7
Pretty soon we were surrounded
D7 G7 C
by a sea of flashing blue lights
C E7 A7
A knock on the window, a torch in the face
D7 G7
and somebody reading my rights
E7 A7 D7 G7
"But officer you don't understand this lady is my wife "
C E7 A7
He said "I'm sorry sir I I'd not realise"
D7 G7 C A7
And I said "neither did I until you turned the torch on".
D7 G7 C A7
I said "neither did I" how embarrassing
D7 G7 C
I said "neither did I"
G7 C7
