“MY PERSONAL COVENANT”

The important work you do to strengthen community sits at the nexus of Turning Outward and staying true to yourself. The Personal Covenant is a deal you make with yourself about what is most valuable to you, why you do the work you do, and how you want to show up to do the work.

1. What inspires me to work in public life?

2. What are the values that shape the way I act in public life?

3. What does it mean for me to step forward?

4. What am I struggling with now that I need to keep in mind as I move forward?

5. What three things moving forward must guide what I say and do?
