

Instructions for getting a degree evaluation from the Center for Education Documentation.

<http://www.cedevaluations.com/>

For the evaluation of your foreign academic credentials, you need to mail official/original transcripts and a copy of degree/diploma in the original language along with official English translations. If Framingham State University accepts evaluation based on photocopies, then you can submit them in accordance to the policy of the institution. Please contact them to find out more.

You can access our application form at www.cedevaluations.com. The regular service is 12 working days at the latest and as you will see on the form, there are expedited services available for an additional fee.

We offer a general evaluation ($80) which lists your documents, has a paragraph with the explanation of the education system in your country and then a statement with the equivalency of your study and/or qualifications in U.S. terms and a course by course evaluation ($130) which includes the general but goes on to list all university level courses, grades and credits.

If you wish to have your documents returned to you then you would select the appropriate mail service.

For the payment, you can pay by check or money order (payable to CED) if you are requesting the regular service of 12 business days. For a rush service, the total payment has to be in money order. It is highly preferable that a friend or relative in the U.S. pay on your behalf since payment from the U.S. prevents the possibility of delaying your service. If you need to submit an international payment, please let us know and we will provide further instruction.
