ESTABLISHED 2001

A non-competition dance studio that focuses on technique, creativity, affordability, and fun!

Philosophy:

Dance should be open to everyone! The goal of Kaleidoscope Dance Studio is to create a kind, inviting arena for all students to experience and appreciate the joy of movement.

Classes and performances are geared to age and ability.

About the director, Liz Sackewitz: Liz received a degree in Dance Education from BYU. She was a member of the BYU Cheer Squad and Dancensemble. Liz was the recipient of the Research and Creative Activities award and her choreography was showcased at the American College Dance Festival in 1997.

Between 1997-2000, she took over the dance programs at American Fork High School, where she coached the modern dance company and drill team. She has spent many years teaching groups of all ages and abilities at local schools and studios, as well as performing with Mountain West Ballet for several years. She has been running Kaleidoscope Dance Studio for 17 years.

Liz and her husband, Bill, are parents of Parker (17), Emi (15), Quinn (11), and Macy (8).
