SUCCESS !!!

Thanks to years of dedicated volunteers donating hundreds of hours of effort and lots of very hungry air-potato beetles, the air potato vine’s invasion of the Hammock has been controlled to manageable levels.

With very few air potatoes seen on the ground we are happy to announce that there will be no winter Air Potato Round-Up this year. That said, we still need to keep vigilant in order to prevent any survivors from rebounding. We will continue to monitor and remove any remaining potatoes on the ground and pull any new vines.

NEW VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES IN 2016

Early next year Friends of the Hammock and the City of Dunedin will present a Hammock Park adoption plan in conjunction with the ongoing professional invasive plant and tree removal in the park.

Volunteers from the public, clubs, civic groups and schools will be asked to adopt a specific area to observe, document and maintain as an invasive free zone. The plan and seminars to implement the program will be presented at the annual meeting, Tuesday, January 19, 2016. Stay tuned!

BENCHMARK PROJECT UPDATE: Only one bench remains.
