You have been granted Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The benefits of TPS are temporary protection from removal (or deportation) and employment authorization in the United States.

Attached to this notice is a Form I-94 indicating your Temporary Protected Status in the United States. The I-94 is valid until the expiration date shown on it.

If the program is extended, you must re-register with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) within the time period designated for re-registration. In order to obtain these TPS extensions, you must apply to the USCIS at least thirty days prior to the expiration date on your I-94.

Failure to re-register for a TPS extension may result in the withdrawal of your TPS and may result in removal proceedings being initiated against you.

While you are under Temporary Protected Status, you:

- (1) will not be removed from the United States;
- (2) will be granted work authorization, if a request has been made with the required fee, until the expiration of the time period designated for your Temporary Protected Status;
- (3) will be considered as being in, and maintaining, lawful status as a nonimmigrant for purposes of adjustment of status under section 245 of the Act and for change of status under section 248 of the Act;
- (4) will not be considered to be permanently residing in the United States under the code of law;
- (5) may be deemed ineligible for public assistance by a state or any political subdivision thereof which furnishes such assistance; and
- (6) may not depart the United States without prior approval of the Attorney General of the United States.

Please see the additional information on the back. You will be notified separately about any other cases you filed.
