Item 3. Annual Report 2022 and President’s highlights

The President Justin Green reported the progress made in the main projects of the GA:

- Global Ethics Month (February) - Thousands of public relations and communication professionals participated from Peru to Finland, Canada to Kenya and New Zealand to Germany in a series of webinars focusing on topics such as Trust in Media during the Covid-19 Pandemic; Ethics in Social Media – a Challenge for Brands; AI, Communications and Ethics; Student and Practitioners Online Conference on Ethics and How Lobbying can Serve Democracy. This programme was led by Ethics & Standards Director Kia Haring (ProCom – Finnish Association of Communication Professionals).

- Global Trends and Communication Transformation Month (March) – As communication professionals, it is important to step back and analyse the main trends impacting the communications industry and how PR professionals are evolving. This year, the world’s PR professionals shared their thoughts on key trends transforming our industry and shaking up our old ways of working and thinking. This month-long initiative was led and tracked by Vice President Silvia Arto, (COM- EMT - Communication & Enterprise) and the European Regional Council.

- Education, Training and Development Months (April & May) – Global Alliance hosted and shared free of charge more than €3m worth of education, training and resources to members from experts around the world. This year’s Education, Training and Development Month kicked-off with a global 24-hour marathon of PR & Education videos presented hourly around the clock. Exciting topics on PR and Artificial Intelligence; The Pandemic and Mental Health; Squid Game Impact; Effective Leadership; Trust; Measurement; Ethics in Social Media; ESG and Crisis Management were among the topics presented. This initiative was led by Jaffri Amin Osman, (IPRM – Institute Public Relations Malaysia).

- Diversity, Equality & Inclusion Month (June) - Thanks to the collaboration of Global Alliance members and prestigious third parties, we gathered a total of 100 educational tools, comprised of articles, webinars, and podcasts about an array of relevant topics on diversity, equity and inclusion. It was also a privilege to have the support of 14 Diversity & Inclusion Champions who participated in dialogue sessions for us to benefit from their experiences, perspectives and insights. This work was led by Gladys Díaz (ARPPR – Puerto Rico Public Relations Association).

- Health & Wellbeing Month (September) - Three years with a pandemic that no one could ever imagine would happen, wars, climate change, energy and economic crises have required a tremendous capacity for people and societies to adapt. But, unfortunately and despite that agility, we still suffer from a lack of work-life balance. This initiative was supported by Paula Portugal Mendes, Global Alliance’s Membership Services Director (APCE - Portuguese Association of Corporate Communications) and chief editor of Global Alliance’s free monthly newsletter.

- World PR & Communications Month (October) – Global Alliance again led the world in celebrating the world public relations and communications profession. Throughout the month, member organisations joined together to showcase and celebrate the critical work being done by public relations and communications professionals across three key areas: Recognition & Celebration, Advocacy and Credibility. This initiative was led by Bonnie Caver (IABC – International Association of Business Communicators).

- Student & Young Practitioner Month (November) - Global Alliance promoted career activities aimed at stirring the hearts and minds of students and young practitioners looking to join the ranks of PR professionals. The main activities were Career World, a career orientation webinar for students aimed at building awareness about PR and the wide range of career opportunities that are available for them and Jobs World, a panel discussion where industry experts shared their experiences while working in PR-related fields like investor relations, media and marketing. This initiative was led by Ana Pista (PSPR - Public Relations Society of the Philippines).

- The Best of Education & Training Month (December) - This was another opportunity for members to upskill and develop their training with free access to a library of over 350 presentations and educational resources - one of many increasing member benefits. These initiatives engaged thousands of communicators who created and shared content, supporting and endorsing it in what has been the largest online engagement in the history of Global Alliance. This success would not have been possible without our Global Alliance CAO Mateus Furlanetto and Jaffri Osman (IPRM - Institute Public Relations Malaysia).

- Academic, Educational and Training Accreditation - Global Alliance’s Academic Council oversees our accreditation programme providing global recognition and accreditation of our members’ qualifications, training and educational programmes, fulfilling our mission of raising professional standards worldwide. This enables Global Alliance to strengthen public relations standards, ethics, internationalisation and professionalism worldwide, as we are mandated to.

- Regional Councils – Going from strength to strength since they were established less than three years ago as a practical step towards getting closer to our membership, our six Regional Councils are led by the following Chairs: Africa (Peter Mutie, Public Relations Society of Kenya); Asia Pacific (Jaffri Osman, Institute Public Relations Malaysia); Europe (Silvia Arto, Communication & Enterprise); Middle East - South Asia (Amith Prabhu, The Promise Foundation); Latin America (Hamilton dos Santos, Brazilian Association for Business Communication) and North America (Béatrice Guay, Canadian Public Relations
This year, Global Alliance had the opportunity to host an in-person board meeting and AGM in Istanbul, Turkey, hosted by Gonca Karakas (Tühid – Turkish Public Relation Association). There was also an opportunity to speak at the APRA Annual Conference in Tanzania in May, and to engage in live events hosted by LSPR Communication and Business Institute in Indonesia; World Communications; ASEAN PR Network; IPRM – Institute Public Relations Malaysia and UiTM University in Malaysia and VNPR Vietnam PR Network and UEH University of Economics Ho Chi Minh City in Vietnam.

Regional Offices – Global Alliance maintained the six regional offices operating in Nairobi, Kenya (Africa), São Paulo, Brazil (Latin America), Gurugram, India (Middle East-South Asia) Jakarta, Indonesia (Asia), New York, USA (North America), along with our existing head office in Lisbon, Portugal (Europe). Thank you to our local partners and associations whose continued support is greatly appreciated.

Approaching the Future 2022: Trends in Reputation and Intangible Asset Management - Companies play an increasingly important role in societies, and their evolution, priorities and decisions depend to a large extent on the socio-economic context. Faced with recent crises and uncertainty, citizens are demanding greater involvement, commitment, and social and environmental activism from organizations, and topics such as purpose, reputation and responsible leadership are taking on unprecedented dimensions, forcing companies to integrate them into their business management strategies. This was among the findings of the report Approaching the Future 2022: Trends in Reputation and Intangible Asset Management, produced by Corporate Excellence - Centre for Reputation Leadership, CANVAS Estrategias Sostenibles and Global Alliance for Public Relations and Communication Management.

Global Alliance Public Relations and Communication Model - The Global Alliance PR and Communications Model was rolled out throughout 2022 and is available free for members to share among their membership. The model defines the roadmap and building blocks of the PR and Communications functions that contribute to the creation of differentiation, reputation, trust and social legitimacy for organizations. The model consolidates the Stockholm Accords and the Melbourne Mandate, and also integrates the Global Alliance Capability Framework. To date, the Model has been shared and presented to over 55,000 public relations and communication practitioners, academics, CEOs and students across the world. The model was led by Dr Ángel Alloza and Dr Clara Fontán from Corporate Excellence - Centre for Reputation Leadership (Spain).

Global Alliance Capability Framework - Our collaboration with the University of Huddersfield (UK) goes from strength to strength, as witnessed by the continued increase in use by our members across the world over the last 12 months. Free access to the Framework continues into 2024, as a benefit of your Global Alliance membership.

Corporate Governance & Compliance - To exemplify the highest standards of corporate governance and compliance, we continually review our Bylaws and Policy Documents. A recent review of the Bylaws was undertaken with changes proposed to ensure they continue to be fit for purpose, reflecting the organization’s strategic plan and the current anticipated demands of a professional global membership organization. We are continuing to improve our structures, offerings and business model. As a member organization, accountability, transparency and sound corporate governance remain vitally important to us.

Membership Growth & Financial Stability - Business activities increased substantially during 2022 as evidenced by the number of programmes, funding initiatives, and membership recruitment efforts implemented. As our membership has grown and diversified, so too has the importance of ensuring we operate on a sounder commercial footing so that we can continue to reinvest. Current membership stands at 82, a huge 65% increase since January 2019.

Treasurer & Certified Public Accountant, Philip T. Bonaventura presented the Financial Report for 2022:

- Financial Report for the Year Ending December 31, 2022
- As the Global Alliance for Public Relations and Communications Management transitions to a post-Covid era, its financial position remains strong. Member value and satisfaction has been on an upward trajectory for several years and 2022 continued that path with expanded programming and the reintroduction of in-person meetings.

Income Statement:

- Operating results for 2022 reflected a decrease in Total Income from 2021 (38,013 or 73%) because of a decrease in Membership Fees (8,491 or 16%), Sponsorships (15,809 or 54%) and Accreditation Income (7,351 or 24%).
- Expenses also increased 6,361 or 10% from 2021. The most significant increases occurred in Support Funding Expense Refund (11,500) and Expenses Refund (4,585 or 290%). Both expense categories were related to travel to the various Global Alliance meetings and increased programs and the Support Funding Expense Refund was offset by the generous sponsorship previously received by Global Alliance specifically to support these expenses. The primary expense reductions were for Third-party Services (4,793 or 25%) which reflects operating efficiencies with increased programming in a predominantly virtual environment, and Other General Expenses (4,268 or 66%). Other expenses saw relatively small variances as compared to 2021.
- The net result was an operating surplus of 13,942 which was 38,013 or 73% lower than 2021, and it greatly exceeded the budget expectations.

Balance Sheet:

- Total Net Assets increased by the total operating surplus generated in 2022 of 13,942, resulting in a Net Asset Balance of 135,217. This represents 200% of the 2022 budgeted operating expenses or 24 months of expenses in liquid reserves, which exceeds the industry benchmark of 50% or six months of operating expenses in reserves.

A Report of the statutory auditor who had examined the financial statements (balance sheet, income statements and notes) was made in accordance with the Swiss Law.

Action:

A motion was proposed by Philip T. Bonaventura of Public Relations Society of America and seconded by Paula Portugal Mendes of Portuguese Association of Corporate Communication to accept the financial report 2022. No members against. No member abstentions. Motion was unanimously approved.
