

ANNE M. GUARNERA

@aguarnera | anne.guarnera@gmail.com

---

EDUCATION

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, Charlottesville, Va.

PhD, Spanish Literature, May 2017

MA, Spanish Literature, May 2012

- Jefferson Fellow, highest university-wide fellowship
- South Atlantic Public Humanities Fellow

BRYN MAWR COLLEGE, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

BA, Comparative Literature, May 2006

- Holton Prize for Best Comparative Literature Thesis
- Magna cum laude (overall GPA: 3.89) with departmental honors

TEACHING AND INSTRUCTIONAL DEVELOPMENT

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, Charlottesville, Va.

• Graduate Teaching Assistant, 2012-2014

Fulfilled all classroom responsibilities as instructor of record for undergraduate Intermediate and Advanced Intermediate Spanish classes.

• Spanish Department Preceptor, 2012-2014

Coordinated curriculum and assessment development for teams of 20+ Graduate Teaching Assistants. Observed and mentored new teachers in conjunction with the department's language program coordinator.

• Teaching Workshop Leader, 2012-2014

Designed and delivered workshops for graduate students on grading student writing and time management.

• Teaching Resource Participant, 2012-2014

Completed both the Tomorrow's Professor Today faculty development program and the Advanced Pedagogy Seminar offered by the University's Teaching Resource Center.

BALLOU HIGH SCHOOL, Washington, D.C.

Teach for America Corps Member, 2006-2007

Taught 10th and 11th grade English literature, motivating more than 120 students to achieve 80 percent mastery of grade-level skills. Ranked as the most effective teacher in cohort of 60+ Teach for America recruits.

COMMUNICATIONS AND MEDIA

HISPANIC COLLEGE FUND, Washington D.C.

Director of Communications, 2009-2010

Designed and implemented a strategic communications plan to improve organizational visibility, resulting in over 9 million media impressions. Managed outreach to federal legislators to influence higher education policies affecting Hispanic students.

GOLINHARRIS, Arlington, Va.

Senior Account Executive, 2008-2009

Motivated teams on multiple accounts to achieve clients' marketing, media, and event-planning goals. Managed presentation opportunities for the U.S. Postal Service's speakers bureau, coordinated strategic web site redesigns for grantees of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and planned the first academic symposium on memory and memory disorders for the Blanchette Rockefeller Neurosciences Institute. Led proposal-writing and presentation projects for new business opportunities in the government, nonprofit, and for-profit sectors.

HISPANIC COUNCIL FOR REFORM AND EDUCATIONAL OPTIONS, Washington D.C.

Director of Communications, 2007-2008

Managed six employees on the communications and public policy teams to execute projects including a successful grassroots campaign for school choice legislation in Florida, a bilingual PSA campaign in Colorado, and local parent education workshops in Texas, Arizona, and Florida.