

Heat Seal Splice Head

Available on machine models: SP1, SP1DL

Splice is created by melting and sealing two rolls of material together without tape

Advantages, Functions & Features

- Increase splice efficiency
- Configurable temperature presets for different materials
- Web gripper for easy splice preparation

Functional Requirements

- Materials must be tested and approved by Butler for heat splice feasibility

Installation Requirements

- Factory-installed option only

