Presents the
2017 World Geography Academy I & II:
“Media, Maps, and Technology”

Funded by Oklahoma and National Geographic Collaborative Grant Monies

The 2017 World Geography Academies I and II (WGA's) in Norman, Oklahoma are a series of one-day professional development academies for all educators.

Substitute teacher reimbursements will be available to help assist teachers in attending this Academy.

“Media, Maps, and Technology” is the theme for both WGA's. Breakout sessions will encompass various topics including media literacy, mapping skills, renewable energy and geo-technologies. Elementary, Middle and High School sessions are planned.

Oklahoma classroom teachers who have achieved “Teacher Consultant” status through training with OKAGE will present. Other OKAGE presenters may include college or university faculty, and/or professionals from the disciplines of geography and related fields.

This Academy is a high quality professional development opportunity. The activities are directly aligned to the Oklahoma Academic Standards for the Social Studies for Geography. The primary goals of the Academy are to provide teachers with innovative geographic content using geo-literacy skills, data analysis, and collaborative thinking. Lessons will be modeled and copies provided.
