CONSENT FOR HORMONE SUPPLEMENTATION THERAPY

General Bio-identical hormones are comprised of naturally derived concentrated hormones. These hormones are designed to be biologically identical to the hormones a woman makes in her own body prior to menopause, including estrogen and testosterone which are made in the ovaries and adrenal gland. Bio-identical hormones have the same effects on the body as one's own estrogen and testosterone did when the woman was younger, without the monthly fluctuations (ups and downs) of menstrual cycles.

I request and consent to the administration of hormones and authorize that these will be prescribed by Dr. Frank Comstock, MD. I acknowledge that there are no guarantees or assurances made with respect to the benefits of hormone supplementation therapy prescribed to me.

I understand that initial blood tests will be performed to establish my baseline hormone levels. I agree to comply with requests for ongoing testing to assure proper monitoring of my hormone levels. I agree to report to the physicians any adverse reactions or problems that might be related to my hormone therapy. I understand that with hormone supplementation there are possible risks and complications if I do not comply with the recommended dosage.

Benefits and Risks The potential benefits of testosterone include a possible increase in bone density, short term memory, protection against Alzheimer's, increase in energy, libido, and sense of well-being. I may also see testosterone decreasing the frequency and severity of my headaches. The potential benefits of estradiol include possible elimination of my mood swings, anxiety and irritability, cardiovascular protection and protection from developing colon cancer and brain dysfunction.

Side effects or complications are substantially more rare than in the case of non—bioidentical hormones, but may include: Breast tenderness and swelling especially in the first few weeks after starting estrogen, water retention, weight gain. I also realize the estradiol can aggravate fibroids or polyps, if they exist, and cause uterine bleeding.

Bioidentical testosterone therapy can contribute to acne, facial hair growth, and loss of hair in a minority of patients due to the conversion of testosterone to DHT. Rare but reversible side effects of testosterone therapy include change in voice and clitoral enlargement. In the past, male athletes have abused testosterone. When they took huge quantities of synthetic testosterone, they may have incurred heart problems and elevated cholesterol. However, low-dose, non-oral, natural testosterone has not been associated with these problems.

I have not been promised or guaranteed any specific benefit from the administration of this therapy. I understand that hormone supplementation for rejuvenation purposes is a new specialty and there are no guarantees with respect to the treatment prescribed.

I understand that the role of the physician is for hormone replacement only. I agree that I am and will be under the care of another physician for all other medical conditions.

I have been informed that insurance companies including Medicare do not pay for hormone supplementation therapy. I therefore agree to pay for all services including laboratory and pharmacy charges myself, with the understanding that I will not be reimbursed by my insurance company.

My signature below certifies that I have read and understood the above and my acknowledgement that I have been encouraged to ask any questions regarding my hormone therapy and all my questions have been answered to my satisfaction.
