

Creative English Specialist for Amersham based Social Enterprise (EF117)

Do you enjoy working in a dynamic environment? Would you like to contribute to children's academic, physical and social well-being? Are you creative and able to think outside the box? If so, we're looking for people like you who can help us turn learning into entertainment.

Numbermix, an award-winning Social Enterprise, develops projects that make learning active, engaging and fun. Whilst we specialise in Maths and Science, we are expanding rapidly and as such are looking for an English specialist to help build our team and meet the demand we are experiencing.

The role will evolve based on the expertise you bring to the table, but will include:

- Creative writing and story development
- Content development for an immersive theatre project
- English tuition for children of all ages and abilities
- New business development

Although no experience is necessary, you should be passionate and creative and enjoy working with children and young adults. Exceptional verbal and written communication skills are essential and any previous teaching/tuition experience is advantageous.

You should have at least A-level English and preferably enjoy Maths and/or Science too. Creative writing skills and a background in drama would be advantageous.

This is a great opportunity for someone who wants to pass on their enthusiasm and for someone who wants to work in a dynamic, fun and growing enterprise.

Please apply with a covering letter and CV using the reference EF117 to enquiries@numberfit.com.

You will need to be fun, hardworking and enthusiastic, with excellent communication skills and keen to help to contribute to children's academic, physical and social well-being.
