“What is your primary reason for being?” This is the first question my friend Bill Wilson, Executive Director of the Center for Healthy Churches, asks when assessing the health of a congregation. Bill, who is in fifth decade of church ministry and leadership, contends that “All organizations, including churches, have a reason for being. Only a few actually know that reason and articulate it and live into it.” He wrote a blog in March titled The 8 Deadly Sins of the Church. (http://chchurches.org/the-8-deadly-sins-of-the-church/)

In it, he names eight common congregational mindsets in declining and dying churches across the country:

1. Building-centric
2. Denomination-centric
3. Doctrine-centric
4. Laity-centric
5. Money-centric
6. Pastor-centric
7. Program-centric
8. Staff-centric

At the end of the article Bill offers a healthy alternative to the eight scenarios above, which he calls mission-centric: seeking to align congregational life with the mission of God as articulated by Jesus: To love God, to love our neighbor, and to make disciples.

Do we know why we exist at First Baptist Church? What’s your “elevator speech” about our identity and purpose as a congregation? What would a newcomer assume is our main reason for being, if she or he were simply to observe us as a community?

Let’s keep talking about this together.

Peace and grace,

Julie
CHRISTIANS AND MUSLIMS: BUILDING BRIDGES

Three Sundays Remaining: April 15, 22 & 29
(NEW ROOM: Library)
Taught by Dr. Charlie Reynolds, US Army Chaplain (Ret.)

Every day in the news we view events involving Muslims, yet there is a vacuum of misunderstanding about Muslims and the Islamic Faith. Muslims comprise one of the largest groups of emigrants coming to the United States. Muslims are our neighbors. It is critically important for Christians in the United States to understand Islam and the beliefs of Muslims, as well as how we can interact with our Muslim brothers and sisters in meaningful ways.

Teacher: As a US Army Chaplain, Charlie Reynolds served as the Strategic Religious Advisor for United States Forces Iraq and United States Army Africa. He retired as the director of the Army Center for World Religions and is currently a religious advisor for the Army. Charlie received his BA in Interdisciplinary Studies at the University of Richmond and an MDiv and DMin from Golden Gate Seminary in Mill Valley, CA. While in the military he received a Master of Theology Degree from Princeton Seminary in World Religions and Culture and was an Academic Fellow at the Institute for Conflict Analysis and Resolution at George Mason University, where his academic focus was on ways religion can assist in reducing conflict. He has presented this material at the American Academy of Religion Annual Meeting and the Cooperative Baptist Fellowship General Assembly, as well as at conferences in the U. K. and Germany. Charlie’s hobbies are golf, running and hiking.

Classes begin at 9:30am each Sunday:
April 8       Bridge One: Understanding Islam
April 15      Bridge Two: Understanding a Muslim’s World View
April 22      Bridge Three: Understanding the Diversity in Islam
April 29      Bridge Four: The Bridge We Walk Over

NEW FIRST GLANCE
MAY 6 - JUNE 3

a five-week orientation to fbc for newcomers and new members

• Facilitated by FBC pastors and lay leaders
• Meet others who are new to First Baptist (within the past year or so)
• Hear a little about our church’s 216-year history, as well as distinctive features of the Baptist stream of Christianity
• Have conversations about walking in the way of Jesus
• Share from your own experiences with God
• Bonus: enjoy excellent coffee and breakfast nibbles!

Can’t be there all Sundays? No worries; join us as often as you can.
DUKE LEADERSHIP

From Pastor Julie

Join me in congratulating Alyssa Aldape who has been selected to participate in the Foundations of Christian Leadership program through Duke University. This seminar brings together young leaders from various faith bodies and organizations to collaborate and learn innovative ways of engaging their unique communities/congregations. The four-day seminar will take place at Calvary Baptist Church here in Washington April 23-26. Alyssa says, “I’m excited to learn ways of tapping into the passions and gifts of FBC through the lens of Christian teaching of inclusion and love.” More info on the program can be found here: https://leadership.divinity.duke.edu/what-we-offer/programs/foundations-of-christian-leadership/

UPDATE FROM CUBA

In February of 2017, fourteen women and men from FBCDC traveled to Havana to spend a week with the brothers and sisters of William Carey Baptist Church. This week we received the following letter from the pastor of WCBC, Rev. Dorilin Tito.

Dear brothers of the 1st Baptist Church of Washington and Pastor Julie:

May the Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

In a long time we have not communicated, but our fraternal love and sincere affection remains the same. We have had difficulties with our Email, so we have not been able to write to you before. Now that we have solved this difficulty of the Email, I write to you with the purpose of greeting you, and above all to convey our gratitude for the blessings received through you.

(We have sent greetings with Brother Stan, but we know that perhaps they have not had much communication because Brother Stan now lives in Florida. We have also done it with other brothers who know them.)

Our church is immensely grateful for all the blessings we have received from you. Not only the happy memory of your visit to our country, but also for your constant concerns for our welfare. I thank you for the financial help you sent us in November for the elderly and victims of Hurricane Irma. Every penny is being used for this purpose. The economic aid that you left during your visit to our church and the gift sent last November have been carefully used for this project.

Our elderly members, who were especially vulnerable after the hurricane because of increased food shortages and their already-low income, have benefited greatly from this project. For almost a year we have been providing monthly help:

- a package with chicken
- a liter of oil
- a packet of milk
- two soaps and two bags of detergent

These are important elements of the basic pantry of each Cuban home. This gives them help of approximately $13 CUC. The currency exchange in our country would be about $317 CUP, which is more or less the monthly salary that most receive for their retirement. Many elderly people cannot afford these products every month. Giving them these items saves them a great deal of money. They are able to enjoy all these things every month while allowing their salary to buy other necessary items for their family.

Currently we have forty-seven elders older than 70 in the project. The number has increased as we have seen the need. Most live alone or with a family member. We have five elderly members who are very sick and homebound. From the funds you sent to us we purchase for them disposable diapers and some expensive medicines that improve their quality of life and make them more comfortable. This helps not only the elderly members but also their families. We are preparing files summarizing the situation of each individual in order to better organize our work with them and help them more effectively.

We are economizing and administering this money in the best possible way so that these elders may benefit from this help through at least 2018. Whenever they receive their package, they smile gratefully and always say: “Pastor, thank the brothers and sisters in Washington.”

We would like to convey our gratitude to the Church for this help. (I’m enclosing some photos.) We are grateful to the Lord for your lives. We ask God to bless you and make the work of your hands prosper. May your ministries be blessed, and may they bless others.

Thanks for everything. If possible, we want to keep in touch. We want to know you. We remember with great affection your stay in our Church. Please greet all the brothers and sisters who were here during that trip. And please extend our greeting to the entire First Baptist Church of Washington, especially to your pastors and leaders.

We love you in Christ Jesus, our Lord.

“Jehová te bendiga, y te guarde; Jehová haga resplandecer su rostro sobre ti, y tenga de ti misericordia; Jehová alce sobre ti su rostro, y ponga en ti paz.” Nm. 6:24-26 (“Jehovah bless you, and keep you. The Lord make his face shine upon you, and have mercy on you. The Lord lift up his face upon you, and give you peace. (Numbers 6:24-26)

MARCH FOR OUR LIVES/ RALLY AGAINST RACISM RECAP

First Baptist has had a few opportunities to participate in the two marches- the day before Palm Sunday and Wednesday, April 4. On the Saturday before Palm Sunday, all who were able gathered on the steps of the church and marched to Pennsylvania Ave to hear youth speak their hearts on matters that affect their everyday lives. And then early Wednesday morning, a few FBC folks gathered amidst a whirlwind of Cherry Blossom petals to march to the beat of drums as we reflected on the life of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King. It was encouraging to see fellow ministers and persons of faith at the rally. Despite the strong winds, speakers continued on with their words of challenge and affirmation to us. Let us always be mindful of God’s big dream for the world- and that it includes every person created in the image of God.
