Greetings from Queen Bethani

The Lake County Fair will always be known for giving me the opportunity to have the best memories that will forever be cherished. It was the one week out of the whole year where I was allowed to eat large amounts of corn dogs and cotton candy, visit with the animals in the 4H building, and of course, watch the pageant. My very best memory of the fair occurred when I watched my very first pageant. Not only because I thought that the girls were “princesses,” but also because I was able to watch my older sister/role model compete. I still remember feeling butterflies in my stomach whenever she came up on stage, I was always nervous for my sister. If I had butterflies just watching my sister, I couldn’t begin to imagine what it felt like to actually compete. Luckily, curiosity set in, and I was on my way to competing in the Lake County Fair Queen Pageant. Not only was I lucky enough to follow in my sisters footsteps, but my mother’s as well. My mother, sister, and I were all given the opportunity to compete on the very same stage. This was a tradition that the Lake County Fair has instilled in me, and I will forever be grateful.

The Lake County Fair has not only created great memories for my childhood, but for my adult years as well. All of the dreams that I had of being fair queen finally came true. My week at the fair as Miss Lake County Fair Queen was one of the most exhausting, yet rewarding experiences. Who would’ve known that you could wear heels in mud, rock a milk mustache from chugging a carton of milk during the Crazy Cow Relay Race, and go on rides without losing the crown on your head? My experience at the fair would not have been the same without my Little and Junior Miss. Lexi, my Junior Miss, never failed to put a smile on my face. She was always my number one fan in whatever I did. Her amount of positivity can be felt from miles away. Natalie, my Little Miss, was always keeping me on my toes! She always had quirky jokes, a personality that could light up a room, and a selfless attitude. Like all good things, this amazing adventure of mine has come to an end. My week serving as the Miss Lake County Fair Queen was one for the books, and I hope that the next queen cherishes every moment of this once in a lifetime experience.

I was provided the opportunity to travel to Springfield for County Fair Day. Upon arrival, I was able to take a photo with the reigning Miss Illinois County Fair Queen, as well as the Director of Agriculture. In addition, I was able to establish friendships with 71 other fair queens from different counties. Although the weather was smoldering, it did not stop us queens from a photo session, exploring the fairgrounds, and getting to share facts about our own counties.

During the fall I traveled to Ottawa, Illinois for the Northern Zone Meeting with about 20 other fairs queens from the northern part of the state. There was a strong sense of camaraderie between my fellow queens and me. We were all so passionate about carrying on the traditions and legacies of our families by making our county fairs proud.

All of the preparation leading up to the state pageant in Springfield was finally coming into fruition. Being able to get up on stage and relay a speech about my very own county was the highlight of it all. I am unable to put into words just how grateful I am for each and every one of the other queens from different counties that I was given the opportunity to compete with. They opened my eyes to the world of agriculture, shared their friendship, and will forever hold a special place in my heart.

A big thank you to my pageant director, Alyce Brownlee. I don’t know how she does it! She has given each of her queens this once in a lifetime opportunity. A thank you to my sister, Brittani Schisler, as well as Kristen One, Summer Zwicke, and Meghan Opolka. My last thank you goes out to the Lake County Fair Board. Thank you for bringing so much joy into my life, helping me create memories that I will forever cherish, and for continuing the strong tradition of the fair in Lake County.

IAFE - International Association of Fair and Expos National Code of Show Ring Ethics

Exhibitors of animals at livestock events shall at all times deport themselves with honesty and good sportsmanship. Their conduct in this competitive environment shall always reflect the highest standards of honor and dignity to promote the advancement of agricultural education. This code applies to junior as well as open class exhibitors who compete in structured classes of competition. This code applies to all livestock offered in any event at a livestock show. In addition to the "IAFE" National Code of Show Ring Ethics", fairs and livestock shows may have rules and regulations which they impose on the local, county, state, provincial and national levels.

All youth leaders working with junior exhibitors are under an affirmative responsibility to do more than avoid improper conduct or questionable acts. Their moral values must be so certain and positive that those younger and more pliable will be influenced by their fine example. Owners, exhibitors, fitters, trainers and absolutely responsible persons who violate the code of ethics will forfeit premiums, awards and auction proceeds and shall be prohibited from future exhibition in accordance with the rules adopted by the respective fairs and livestock shows. Exhibitors who violate this code of ethics demean the integrity of all livestock exhibitors and should be prohibited from competition at all livestock shows in the United States and Canada.

The following is a list of guidelines for all exhibitors and all livestock in competitive events.

1. All exhibitors must present, upon request of fair and livestock show officials, proof of ownership, length of ownership and age of all animals entered. Misrepresentation of ownership, age, or any facts relating thereto is prohibited.
2. Owners, exhibitors, fitters, trainers, or absolutely responsible persons shall provide animal health certificates from licensed veterinarians upon request by fair or livestock show officials.
3. Junior exhibitors are expected to care for and groom their animals while at the fairs or livestock shows.
4. Animals shall be presented to show events where they will enter the food chain free of violative drug residues. The act of entering an animal in a livestock show is the giving of consent by the owner, exhibitors, fitters, trainers and/or absolutely responsible person for show management to obtain any specimens of urine, saliva, blood, or other substances from the animal to be used in testing. Animals not entered in events, which culminates with the animal entering the food chain, shall not be administered drugs other than in accordance with federal, state, and provincial statutes, regulations and rules. If the laboratory report on the chemical analysis of saliva, urine, blood, or other sample taken from livestock indicates the presence of forbidden drugs or medications, this shall be prima facie evidence such substance has been administered to the animal either internally or externally. It is presumed that the sample of saliva, urine, blood, or other sample tested by the approved laboratory to which it is sent is the one taken from the animal in question, its integrity is preserved and all procedures of said collection and preservation, transfer to the laboratory pertains to the sample taken from the animal in question and correctly reflects the condition of the animal at the time the sample was taken, with burden of the owner, exhibitors, fitters, trainers or absolutely responsible person to prove otherwise at any hearing in regard to the matter conducted by the fair or livestock show premises, all treatment involving the use of drugs, and/or medications shall be administered by a licensed veterinarian.
5. Any surgical procedures or injection of any foreign substances or drug or the external application of any substance (irritant, counterirritant or similar substance) which could affect the animal's performance or alter its natural contour, conformation, or appearance, except external applications of substances to the hoofs or horns of animals which affect appearance only and except for surgical procedures performed by a duly licensed veterinarian for the sole purpose of protecting the health of the animal, is prohibited.
6. The use of showing and/or handling practices or devices such as striking animals to cause swelling, using electrical contrivance, or other similar practices are not acceptable and are prohibited.
7. Direct criticism or interference with the judge, fair or livestock show management, other exhibitors, breed representatives, or show officials before, during or after the competitive event is prohibited. In the furtherance of their official duty, all judges, fair and livestock show management, or other show officials shall be treated with courtesy, cooperation and respect and no person shall direct abusive or threatening conduct toward them.
8. No owner, exhibitors, fitters, trainers, or absolutely responsible person shall conspire with another person or persons by affirmative action or inaction to violate this code of ethics. Violation of this rule shall subject such individual to disciplinary action.
9. This application of this code of ethics provides for absolute responsibility for an animal's condition by an owner, exhibitors, fitter, trainer or participant whether or note he or she was actually instrumental in or had knowledge of the treatment of the animal in contravention of this code of ethics.
10. The act of entering an animal is the giving of consent by the owner, exhibitors, fitters, trainers, or absolutely responsible person to have any disciplinary action taken by the fair or livestock show against such individuals published in any publication of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, including Fairs and Expositions and any special notice to members.
11. The act of entering of an animal in a fair or livestock show is the giving of verification by the owner, exhibitors, fitters, trainers or absolutely responsible person that he or she has read the IAFE National Code of Show Ring Ethics and understands the consequences of and penalties provided for actions prohibited by the code. It is further a consent that any action which contravenes these rules and is also in violation of federal, state, or provincial statutes, regulations, or rules may be released to appropriate law enforcement authorized with jurisdiction over such infractions.
