WEDDING STATIONERY

First Things First

Your wedding stationery is often the first peek inside your wedding. It sets the tone for your event and should be a reflection of your wedding style. You can never go wrong with a classic design!

Save the Dates

If you choose to send Save the Dates, it's recommended you do this 6-12 months before your wedding date depending on the size of your guest list or location of your venue. Champagne Press offers a classic Save the Date card or the option to customize the design to include a hand mounted photo.

Wedding Invitation Budget

The average Champagne Press invitation suite runs from $2-$5 per piece which includes an invitation, envelope, RSVP card and response envelope as well as the opportunity to add any additional accomodation, direction or reception inserts. We offer foil stamping, letterpress printing, layering, diecutting, custom monogram design, bellybands, envelope printing and more. We're happy to help you stay within your budget and would love to create a custom package just for you.

Ordering and Mailing Dates

Once you've set your wedding date, you can schedule your entire paper needs timeline. We like beginning your production process six to eight weeks before you plan to drop your invitations in the mail. It's recommended you mail them out eight to twelve weeks before your wedding, giving your guests the proper amount of time to RSVP and plan their arrangements for your big day.

Household vs. Headcount

While you're preparing to order your invitations, it's important to count the number of households you will mail invitations to versus the actual guest headcount. Remember many of your guests are likely a couple or family and will only require one invitation. We always recommend ordering a 10% buffer for late additions.

Envelope Address Printing

Decide how you'll address your guest's envelopes as well as your RSVP envelopes. While Champagne Press offers envelope printing with coordinating fonts, you still have the option of using labels, handwriting, printing them yourself or hiring out a calligrapher. Not always a necessity if you are trying to stay under budget, but a huge time saver that allows you to stuff, stamp and send as soon as you receive your invitations in the mail. Use a glue stick or tape roller for an easier time sealing!

Wedding Day Paper Goods

After ordering your wedding invitations you may still need to plan for programs, menus, escort cards, table numbers, place cards, favor tags or signage for your big day. Wedding day paper orders should be placed a minimum of four weeks before your wedding day to allow the proper time to design, produce and ship on time.

Say Thank You

Maybe more important than your guest's invitation is saying thank you for their presence, gift, time and love. We offer personalized stationery which can be ordered before your wedding day in preparation for the event or order multiple sets of generic thank you notes throughout your engagement and wedding. A handwritten note is always appreciated.

Created Just For You

As you shop our collection keep in mind that almost everything you see is customizable. Change the paper color, ink color, wording, layout, print method, fonts and more. We're honored to help in planning such an important event and we are proud to offer a product that we know will set the stage for the day you'll remember forever.
