This is a list of some of the United States-based companies that have exported products from the United States to the Republic of Cuba since December 2001. Depending upon the company, products have included agricultural commodities, food products and healthcare products. Some companies have exported once, some more than once. The list is continually updated.

NOTE: If there are companies not included in this list, please contact council@cubatrade.org with the name of the company and the product(s) that was exported. Not donated product.
