

Hoods built by carpenters

This is an example of a low-cost hood that was built out of wood, with glass in the front and a light for good visibility. The wood and all edges are carefully covered with a plastic wrap so that the hood can be easily cleaned with alcohol. When not in use, the hood can be closed with a removable glass.

