The right to work in a safe environment

The right to be treated with respect by all staff members

The right to be engaged in meaningful work and be actively included regardless of any physical limitation

The right to be told what impact you work has had on the community

The right to ask any staff member about the organizations work

The right to provide feedback about your experience

The right to receive financial information or an annual report

Source: http://ssir.org/articles/entry/volunteer_bill_of_rights