Sculpture park music activity sheet #3: Reflective and sensory time

Come on a musical adventure in Heide's sculpture park with Between Footsteps.

The Between Footsteps artists; Elissa Goodrich, Cressida Bradley and friends, have created six percussive music tracks inspired by six of Heide's sculptures.

Download the music from www.betweenfootsteps.com

Find the sculptures and listen to their matching tracks. Use this activity sheet to create great drawings, stories and more.

There is a bit of space on this sheet to draw and write, but you might like to bring extra paper for big imaginations!

Spot #1: Running Man by Rick Amor. Track #1: Running Man

Listen to the music and write the story of why the man is running.

Spot #2: Crescent House by Andrew Burns. Track #2 Theatre of Stars

Write, or draw, an adventure you might go in this house when it's night-time.

Spot #3: Theoretical Matter by Neil Taylor. Track #3 Rust and Endless Windows

Close your eyes and draw the shapes that you hear in the music. Now draw the shapes that you see in the sculpture. Are they the same, or are they different?

Spot #4: Basket and Wave by Dennis Oppenheim. Track #4 Dreamweave Waves

Draw the sounds of the music and the movement of the sculpture.

Spot #5: Under felt-donkey by Yvonne Kendall. Track #5 Dance of The Little Donkey
Listen to the music and write this little donkey's story.

Spot #6: Rings of Saturn by Inge King. Track #6 Spheres and Planets

Lie down and look up at the sculpture and the sky. Listen to the music and imagine where it is taking you.
