MEET THE BROTHERS

Barry Friedman and Daniel Holzman are the Raspyni Brothers. As one of the most sought-after acts on the corporate entertainment scene, they appear annually at over 100 events across America and internationally.

Since 1982, their intelligent mayhem has earned them two International Juggling Championships, multiple appearances on the Tonight Show with Johnny Carson and Jay Leno, and a place in the Guinness Book of World Records.

In addition to the tremendous success they enjoy in the field of corporate entertainment, these two unrelated siblings also tour as an opening act for dozens of superstars such as Robin Williams, Billy Crystal, Tony Bennett, Dennis Miller, and Tom Jones.

Other audiences have ranged from the King of Spain and the Academy Awards, to the sequestered O.J. Simpson jury.
