Music Camp

Around the world in five days! Join us for an exciting exploration of world music. We will learn about everything from drums that talk in West Africa to ancient Chinese sages who tuned their instruments to the frequency of the earth. With an emphasis on developing mindfulness that will put us in touch with the sounds around us, we will explore music through expressive art projects and hands-on music-making experiences. Depending on the interests of the group, we may also have group discussions about how music makes us feel and what role music plays in various cultures. Students should feel free to bring instruments from home to complement our collection of percussion instruments. We will balance listening and exploring in the classroom with ample outside play time.
