Rabbi's Message | Bet Hasdai

RABBI DAVID E. OSTRICH

The story of the Yetzi'at Mitzrayim, the Exodus from Egypt, is the main theme of this time of year. In our weekly Torah readings, it occupies some twenty-four chapters and six weeks—and goes from the beginning of the slavery in Egypt (Exodus 1) through the revelation at Mount Sinai (Exodus 20–24). One could ask why Mount Sinai is considered part of the Exodus story. Would not the Exodus end with the Crossing of the Red Sea? According to the Torah, however, the story of the Exodus is not complete until the Revelation at Mount Sinai. In Exodus 19, God explains that the very purpose of Yetzi'at Mitzrayim is our mission to be a “kingdom of priests and a holy people.” The instructions for this mission are contained in the Ten Commandments (Exodus 20) and the many additional commandments in Exodus 21–24. The mission is the purpose of the Exodus, and we need to know what God wants us to do.

As the formative story of Judaism, there are many lessons to be drawn from the story of the Exodus, but, here and now, let me focus on three.

1. Seemingly small actions can make a big difference:

In the story of the slavery and of Pharaoh's attempts to prevent a Moses, the Hebrew midwives, Shiphrah and Puah, are ordered to kill all the newborn boys. These lowly midwives refuse the imperial commands and bring both boys and girls into life. They are subtle about it, however. Instead of defying the Pharaoh to his face, they make up an excuse: “The Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women: they are vigorous. Before the midwife can come to them, they have already given birth.” (Exodus 1.19) These two brave women defy the immoral command and save many lives. Their effectiveness might be limited—they cannot free the slaves and do away with the oppression, but they can do something. Their example is one for us to remember. Small things can make a big difference in the lives of the people who are helped.

2. The buildup of sin:

Why does it take 400 years before God frees the Hebrew slaves? One answer is that God keeps hoping for a human solution. The Midrash suggests that God is hoping that the Israelites will free themselves, but there is also the interpretation that God is hoping for someone in the many generations of oppressing Pharaohs to realize the evil of their ways and repent. A similar thought is found in re the Canaanite presence in Canaan. God gives them the land and lets them live there as long as they behave. However, once they start acting immorally, God gives them some time to see if they will repent. At one point, God explains why the Israelites have to spend four generations in slavery: “The iniquity of the Amorites is not yet complete.” (Genesis 15.16) It is getting fuller and fuller, but God keeps giving them a chance to fix things themselves and avoid Divine punishment. When we are misbehaving and not getting caught, we need to remember that wrong is still wrong; sin is still sin. It may take a while before our evil catches up with us, but eventually it will. Better to stop our sinfulness now—while there is time to repent—and not later.

President's Column

BENSON LICHTIG

Dear Fellow Brit Shalom Members,

Once again, your board of Directors has been very busy.

We are addressing issues related to an aging building as well as typical budgetary matters. We have recently hired a new Religious School Director and have scheduled several programs in the new year that we think will be of interest to a broad range of our membership. We welcome your impact on any issues of concern, or suggestions to improve your relationship to Brit Shalom. Please maintain a current email address with Michelle, our office manager, so you will be sure to receive important email announcements. Thank you once again for your continued support and best wishes to all in the New Year.

Religious School Moments

MIKE RADIS

We finished the first semester of the school year on December 10 and will resume on January 11.

In order that parents will have a better feeling about what the children have been doing during this fall semester, the teachers will be working on mid-year progress reports for distribution in mid-January. Hanukkah activities took up a part of the end of the semester including prayers, songs, and marshmallow dreidels and menorahs.

There will be some slight changes in teachers starting in January, as Sarah Fuchs and Rachel Hockman are no longer able to spend the time with us. Lindsay Wollins, Steven Miller, and Maytal Bowman will be filling in their spots.

Wishing everyone a happy Hanukkah and safe travels over the winter break.

Yasher Koach

Yasher Koach to Rabbi Ostrich for his spiritual guidance and assistance during the High Holidays and to everyone who had an honor on the bimah. A hearty mazel tov to everyone who assisted with the High Holiday observances, especially Michelle Davis who takes care of so much for our Congregation, the Religious Affairs Committee, our ushers, the shofar team, Hadassah for coordinating the Break the Fast, everyone who donated to the State College Food Bank and to all who made our observance more meaningful in so many ways.

Giant Cards Sale for JCC Nursery School

We have a great opportunity to raise money for JCCNS through a gift card program that Giant Food Stores operates called Cash for Causes. For every gift card purchased, JCCNS receives 5% back. So $5 for every $100...$50 per $1000....$250 for every $5000! You get the idea—the more participation we have, the bigger the impact!

We will be placing monthly orders for gift cards. Orders need to be in by the first Friday of every month, prepayment required. You tell us how much you would like and pay JCCNS, JCCNS places the order, the order arrives in around 4 business days, then you get your gift cards!

If you are a regular Giant customer, consider purchasing the amount you use on groceries during the month! You can also use the gift cards to purchase gas at the North Atherton location.

There is no negative for you to participate—if you order $100 in gift cards, you get the full $100, but through this program JCCNS would also get $5. A win-win!

Please contact Lorie Waters with questions or to place an order: LFWaterso6@gmail.com or 814-360-6886.

Thank you for your support!

3. Patience:

It takes 400 years of slavery before God effects the redemption from Egypt. 400 years! Though our Tradition speaks of the suffering, the main message is that eventually God saves us. Eventually—after a lot of waiting! Freedom does not come quickly. It would be wonderful if the problems of our lives could or would be solved instantaneously, but the nature of reality is that some problems are not amenable to immediate fixes. We need to be patient—not inactive or undemanding, but patient. Patience is a psychic attitude that realizes that change and improvement can sometimes take a while. When we can take the long view and practice patience, it makes the intervening waiting time better.

Though we have read the story of the Exodus many times before, lessons and insights remain for us. It is worth our continuing attention.

Klezmer Music Workshop & Concert at Congregation Brit Shalom

1) KLEZMER MUSIC WORKSHOP BY SIMPLE GIFTS

Tuesday, January 16 (7:00–8:30 P.M.)

Simple Gifts is an outstanding duo who perform a number of instruments and styles of music. Performing at schools, colleges and universities, folk festivals, churches, Longwood Gardens, and the Smithsonian Institution, they have been described as “extraordinary” (National Theatre Review), infused with “energy, integrity, and joy” (Boston Globe), and “fun, informative, and energetic” (Smithsonian). At Temple Beth El in Huntington, New York the audience “were on their feet the instant the concert ended.”

In a workshop geared toward amateur and professional musicians, Simple Gifts will teach participants to play Klezmer music. Klezmer (literally Yiddish for “musician”) is the traditional music of the Eastern European Jewish population, and it uses scales, modes, ornaments and expressions that are different from Western music. This workshop will focus on the cultural and technical aspects of this music.

2) PUBLIC CONCERT

Thursday, January 18 (7:00–8:30 P.M.)

A public concert will begin with participants from the workshop performing what they learned, and then Simple Gifts will present a program that will focus on Klezmer and related styles from Eastern Europe, especially Romanian, Russian, and Balkan music. Throughout the program, Simple Gifts will include educational narrative that will help the audience to better understand this music.

3) POST-CONCERT WORKSHOP

Thursday, January 18

After the concert, audience members who want to learn more can stay to ask questions and see some of the instruments up close. Some of Simple Gifts' less fragile instruments can be handled and played by audience members. The Simple Gifts musicians will give informal group lessons to people who gather around these instruments.

Fourth Sunday Flicks at Congregation Brit Shalom

Looking for something to do on a bleak winter Sunday? Join us for a movie at 2:00 P.M. on the fourth Sundays of January, February and March.

A WING AND A PRAYER

January 28, 2018

Director and Writer: Boaz Dvir

Stars: William Baldwin, Lou Lenart, Sam Lewis

“A Wing and a Prayer” tells the virtually unknown story of Al Schwimmer, who led a secret, illegal operation to give the newborn Jewish state a chance to survive. Schwimmer and key members of his team thought they were through fighting after WWII ended in 1945.

Yet Schwimmer convinced them to put their lives and U.S. citizenships on the line to give the Jewish state a fighting chance in the 1948 Arab-Israel War.

Mr. Dvir will be with us to lead a discussion of the film.

DENIAL

February 25, 2018

Writers: David Hare, Deborah Lipstadt

Director: Mick Jackson

Stars: Rachel Weisz, Timothy Spall, Tom Wilkinson

Based on Deborah Lipstadt’s book “History on Trial: My Day in Court with a Holocaust Denier,” this film dramatizes the Irving v Penguin Books case in which Lipstadt, a Holocaust scholar, was sued by Holocaust denier, David Irving, for libel.

BIKUR HA-TIZMORET (THE BAND’S VISIT)

March 25, 2018

Writer & Director: Eran Kolirin

Stars: Sasson Gabai, Ronit Elkabetz, Saleh Bakri

The Alexandria Ceremonial Police Orchestra, consisting of eight men, arrive in Israel from Egypt. They have been booked by an Arab cultural center in Petah Tikva, but through a miscommunication (Arabic has no “p” sound, and regularly replaces it with “b”), the band takes a bus to Beit Hatikva, a fictional town in the middle of the Negev Desert. There is no transportation out of the city that day, and there are no hotels for them to spend the night in. The band members dine at a small restaurant where the owner, Dina, invites them to spend the night at her apartment, a friend’s apartment and in the restaurant. That night brings challenges to all of the characters.

Organized by Jim and Deena Ultman with the Brit Shalom program committee and State College Hadassah.

OUR CONGREGATIONAL MUSEUM

Be sure to look at our collection of Jewish artifacts in the display cases in the foyer outside of the sanctuary. Thanks to those who have donated or lent items to us for the display. And, thanks to Deena Ultman who arranged the artifacts—and who will be happy to display any more artifacts of Judaica or local Jewish history that may be donated in the future.

PHOTOS NEEDED FOR OUR WEBSITE

We have some excellent photos on our congregational website, britshalom-statecollege.org, but it sure would be nice to get some updates. If you have some photos of congregational life or of our synagogue, please send them (digitally) to Rabbi Ostrich, rabbiostrich@britshalom-statecollege.org.
