PROFILE

Entertainment professional with over 20 years of post production experience in film, television, and interactive media.

Spent a decade working in various Hollywood sound studios on over 80 film and television projects.

Spent the last 10 years as a project department lead and a studio department director in interactive entertainment, shipping 10 projects across every conceivable platform.

Built a sound department from scratch, hired, managed, and mentored numerous employees, built out edit suites, and purchased hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of equipment and software.

Proficient in troubleshooting solutions for creative, technological, business, and interpersonal challenges.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Arts in Film - Emphasis in Sound
Columbia College Chicago • Grad 1996

EXPERIENCE

Telltale Games - Audio Director (current)

Bolstered a fledgling audio department, doubling it's size and improving it's technical and creative resources; championed technical and interdepartmental workflow improvements; oversaw multiple simultaneous episodic projects that consistently met all milestone requirements while constantly raising the quality bar.

2K Marin - Audio Director

Built and managed a world class, award winning audio department; hired and managed a creatively and technically innovative staff; spec'd out and managed purchasing for editorial and mix suites; managed international and cross disciplinary outsourcing; oversaw two major studio product releases, meeting all milestone deliverables while working within established budgets.

Soundelux - Sound Designer

Honed my skills as a sound designer working on everything from award winning indie dramas to blockbuster franchise action flicks.
