Dear Friends,

Portland’s parks today are more important than they have ever been. As open and natural spaces, they have demonstrable impacts on our physical and mental health. They contribute to the growth and independence of children. They help sustain the quality of air and water. Best of all, parks belong to all of us.

Since joining the Portland Parks Foundation in October, I’ve learned how intensely we Portlanders care for our parks. I’ve gotten my hands dirty (alongside the hundreds of neighborhood volunteers at Parke Diem), had my mind expanded (through exposure to new research on the many benefits of parks and open spaces) and found my hopes confirmed by the dedication of our board, our staff, Parks Commissioner Amanda Fritz, Parks Director Mike Abbate, and his team at Portland Parks & Recreation. All are deeply committed to sustaining parks and parks programs as an avenue to health and equity in our growing city.

Your Parks Foundation has been active. In 2015 we managed successful transitions in the Foundation’s board and staff, mobilized volunteers, distributed funds and laid important groundwork for capital campaigns in 2016. We ended the year with a strong vote of confidence and generous financial support from the community. It’s clear that you understand the Foundation’s role in leveraging public and financial support for park projects.

In 2016 we’ll begin a celebration of our 15th anniversary. We’ll partner with community leaders and public officials to broaden the base of committed park advocates and to highlight the opportunities for private donors to add lasting value to our parks. We’ll work hard along with Portland Parks & Recreation to ensure that Portland’s international reputation for natural green spaces, community gardens, gorgeous beds of roses, wild and woody trails, and sports fields of every description is secure.

Farmer and author Wendell Berry has noted, “The Earth is what we all have in common.” He could have been speaking to us about public parks. They are the shared space for groups and individuals, for private thought and the public forum, day after day, year after year, generation after generation; places to converse, reflect, create, play and cultivate. And parks are our most valuable direct connection to the planet—trees, grasses, streams, wildlife, gardens, soil. They are the common ground that helps literally make us better people. We will always need that common ground. The Portland Parks Foundation invites you to help ensure we have the best.

With warm appreciation,

Jeff Anderson
Executive Director
Portland Parks Foundation

...parks are our most available direct connection to the planet—trees, grasses, streams, wildlife, gardens, soil. They are the common ground that helps literally make us better people.
The Foundation’s Signature Event took place on October 9 & 10, 2015

850 park lovers & community leaders
50 park projects
2,500 volunteer hours

PARKE DIEM

“Parke Diem inspires the planning of multiple work parties to prepare for winter and we’re then able to accomplish about 3-4 months of work all in one weekend. It makes it an extremely productive event for us.”
—Portland Parks & Recreation Community Garden Coordinator

PARKS

INCOME

Foundations $298,575
Corporations $109,250
Individuals $252,830

EXPENSES

Fundraising $55,678
Administration $92,600
Grants & Programs $548,597

$196,000 amount PPF distributed directly to sponsored park projects
8.2% increase in individual donor support

SUPPORT

The Portland Parks Foundation is vital to enhancing our parks network by leveraging private financial resources while serving as a focal point of critical public support.”
—Charlie Swindells, Footbridge Over Burnside Campaign Chair

WE NEED YOU!

Help the Foundation tackle big projects in 2016! We will celebrate our 15th anniversary beginning in May 2016. In addition to special anniversary programs, we’ll be working hard to secure major funding for the Footbridge Over Burnside, help our partner Verde raise funds for Cully Park, and add a micro-grants program supporting Parke Diem community projects. Your support and leadership are essential in completing our goals and improving Portland’s parks—please donate today!

PARTNERSHIP

The Foundation helped bring free programming to thousands of Portlanders during the Summer Free For All movie, concert and playground series last summer. We helped with fundraising and secured two major gifts for concerts in underserved neighborhoods.

“Several Summer Free For All concerts last summer would not have been possible without donations coming through the Portland Parks Foundation. The concerts brought neighbors together for uplifting activities that celebrated our city’s growing cultural diversity.”
—Lynn Shusler, SFPA Concert Manager, Portland Parks & Recreation

FOLLOW US:

Instagram pdxparksfoundation Facebook portlandparksfoundation Sign up for our Monthly Newsletter Portlandpf.org/get-involved
The Foundation’s Signature Event took place on October 9 & 10, 2015

Parke Diem inspires the planning of multiple work parties to prepare for winter and we’re then able to accomplish about 3–4 months of work all in one weekend. It makes it an extremely productive event for us.
—Portland Parks & Recreation Community Garden Coordinator

850 park lovers & community leaders
50 park projects
2,500 volunteer hours

The Foundation helped bring free programming to thousands of Portlanders during the Summer Free For All movie, concerts and playground series last summer. We helped with fundraising and secured two major gifts for concerts in underserved neighborhoods.

“Several Summer Free For All concerts last summer would not have been possible without donations coming through the Portland Parks Foundation. The concerts brought neighbors together for uplifting activities that celebrated our city’s growing cultural diversity.”
—Lynn Shusler, SFPA Concert Manager, Portland Parks & Recreation

FOLLOW US:

Instagram pdxparksfoundation Facebook portlandparksfoundation

SUPPORT

PPF secured $670,000 of our $2.6 million goal to build the Footbridge Over Burnside this year. The capital campaign committee hired local firm Shields Obetz Johnsen to manage the project, and Charlie Swindells joined as campaign chair. We look forward to completing fundraising in 2017 and bridging the gap in the Wildwood Trail next year.

$196,000 amount PPF distributed directly to sponsored park projects

The Portland Parks Foundation is vital to enhancing our parks network by leveraging private financial resources while serving as a focal point of critical public support.
—Charlie Swindells, Footbridge Over Burnside Campaign Chair

INCOME

Foundations $243,675
Corporations $109,250
Individuals $258,650

EXPENSES

Grants & Programs $548,597
Administration $98,600
Fundraising $55,078

8.2% increase in individual donor support

Help the Foundation tackle big projects in 2016! We will celebrate our 15th anniversary beginning in May 2016. In addition to special anniversary programs, we’ll be working hard to secure major funding for the Footbridge Over Burnside, help our partner Verde fundraise for Cully Park, and add a micro-grants program supporting Parke Diem community projects. Your support and leadership are essential in completing our goals and improving Portland’s parks—please donate today!

WE NEED YOU!
PARKE DIEM

850 park lovers & community leaders
50 park projects
2,500 volunteer hours

“Parke Diem inspires the planning of multiple work parties to prepare for winter and we’re then able to accomplish about 3-4 months of work all in one weekend. It makes it an extremely productive event for us.”
—Portland Parks & Recreation Community Garden Coordinator

The Foundation’s Signature Event took place on October 9 & 10, 2015

PARTNERSHIP

The Foundation helped bring free programming to thousands of Portlanders during the Summer Free For All movie, concert and playground series last summer. We helped with fundraising and secured two major gifts for concerts in underserved neighborhoods.

“Several Summer Free For All concerts last summer would not have been possible without donations coming through the Portland Parks Foundation. The concerts brought neighbors together for uplifting activities that celebrated our city’s growing cultural diversity.”
—Lynn Shusler, SFPA Concert Manager, Portland Parks & Recreation

SUPPORT

PPF secured $670,000 of our $2.6 million goal to build the Footbridge Over Burnside this year. The capital campaign committee hired local firm Shields Obelez Jonsen to manage the project, and Charlie Swindells joined as campaign chair. We look forward to completing fundraising in 2017 and bridging the gap in the Wildwood Trail next year.

“The Portland Parks Foundation is vital to enhancing our parks network by leveraging private financial resources while serving as a focal point of critical public support.”
—Charlie Swindells, Footbridge Over Burnside Campaign Chair

WE NEED YOU!

Help the Foundation tackle big projects in 2016! We will celebrate our 15th anniversary beginning in May 2016. In addition to special anniversary programs, we’ll be working hard to secure major funding for the Footbridge Over Burnside, help our partner Verde launch for Cully Park, and add a micro-grants program supporting Parke Diem community projects. Your support and leadership are essential in completing our goals and improving Portland’s parks—please donate today!
The Foundation’s Signature Event took place on October 9 & 10, 2015

850 park lovers & community leaders
50 park projects
2,500 volunteer hours

"Parke Diem inspires the planning of multiple work parties to prepare for winter and we’re then able to accomplish about 3–4 months of work all in one weekend. It makes it an extremely productive event for us."

—Portland Parks & Recreation Community Garden Coordinator

---

PARTNERSHIP

The Foundation helped bring free programming to thousands of Portlanders during the Summer Free For All movie, concert, and playground series last summer. We helped with fundraising and secured two major gifts for concerts in underserved neighborhoods.

"Several Summer Free For All concerts last summer would not have been possible without donations coming through the Portland Parks Foundation. The concerts brought neighbors together for uplifting activities that celebrated our city’s growing cultural diversity."

—Lynn Stusler, SFPA Concert Manager, Portland Parks & Recreation

---

SUPPORT

The Portland Parks Foundation is vital to enhancing our parks network by leveraging private financial resources while serving as a focal point of critical public support.

—Charlie Swindells, Footbridge Over Burnside Campaign Chair

---

INCOME

- Foundations $243,575
- Corporations $109,850
- Individuals $252,850

EXPENSES

- Grants & Programs $518,597
- Administration $98,600
- Fundraising $55,578

WE NEED YOU!

Help the Foundation tackle big projects in 2016! We will celebrate our 15th anniversary beginning in May 2016. In addition to special anniversary programs, we’ll be working hard to secure major funding for the Footbridge Over Burnside, help our partner Verde raise funds for Cully Park, and add a micro-grants program supporting Parke Diem community projects. Your support and leadership are essential in completing our goals and improving Portland’s parks—please donate today!
Dear Friends,

Portland's parks today are more important than they have ever been. As open and natural spaces, they have demonstrable impacts on our physical and mental health. They contribute to the growth and independence of children. They help sustain the quality of air and water. Best of all, parks belong to all of us.

Since joining the Portland Parks Foundation in October, I've learned how intensely we Portlanders care for our parks. I've gotten my hands dirty (alongside the hundreds of neighborhood volunteers at Parke Diem), had my mind expanded (through exposure to new research on the many benefits of parks and open spaces) and found my hopes confirmed by the dedication of our board, our staff, Parks Commissioner Amanda Fritz, Parks Director Mike Abbate, and his team at Portland Parks & Recreation. All are deeply committed to sustaining parks and park programs as an avenue to health and equity in our growing city.

Your Parks Foundation has been active. In 2015 we managed successful transitions in the Foundation’s board and staff, mobilized volunteers, distributed funds and laid important groundwork for capital campaigns in 2016. We ended the year with a strong vote of confidence and generous financial support from the community. It’s clear that you understand the Foundation’s role in leveraging public and financial support for park projects.

In 2016 we’ll begin a celebration of our 10th anniversary. We’ll partner with community leaders and public officials to broaden the base of committed park advocates and to highlight the opportunities for private donors to add lasting value to our parks. We’ll work hard along with Portland Parks & Recreation to ensure that Portland’s international reputation for natural green spaces, community gardens, gorgeous beds of roses, wild and woody trails, and sports fields of every description is secure.

Farmer and author Wendell Berry has noted, “The Earth is what we all have in common.” He could have been speaking to us about public parks. They are the shared space for groups and individuals, for private thought and the public forum, day after day, year after year, generation after generation; places to converse, reflect, create, play and cultivate. And parks are our most available direct connection to the planet—trees, grasses, streams, wildlife, gardens, soil. They are the common ground that helps literally make us better people. We will always need that common ground. The Portland Parks Foundation invites you to help ensure we have the best.

With warm appreciation,

Jeff Anderson
Executive Director
Portland Parks Foundation

“...parks are our most available direct connection to the planet—trees, grasses, streams, wildlife, gardens, soil. They are the common ground that helps literally make us better people.”

Our Mission
The Portland Parks Foundation mobilizes financial and popular support to ensure a thriving and accessible parks system for a healthy Portland.