Printmakers at the Tannery (PATT) Membership Application

If interested, please print the application, fill it out and return to a PATT officer.

The Printmakers at the Tannery’s (PATT) mission is to provide resources for Santa Cruz County printmakers to be able to create art and follow their interests in an unstructured yet collaborative way. PATT is a decidedly cooperative venture and membership implies a commitment to that spirit. PATT also aims to encourage the proliferation and appreciation of original hand-pulled prints and the art of printmaking, through exhibitions, demonstrations, and talks. Further, PATT wishes to increase and promote public knowledge of the art of the original, hand-pulled print through education, production, and collection.

The Printmakers at the Tannery’s mission is to provide resources for Santa Cruz County printmakers to be able to create art and follow their interests in an unstructured yet collaborative way.

The purpose of this collaborative organization, known as PATT, is:

• to allow members a physical space and environment to allow them to pursue their printmaking goals
• to encourage the proliferation and appreciation of original hand-pulled prints and the art of printmaking, through exhibitions, demonstrations, and talks.
• to increase and promote public knowledge of the art of the original, hand-pulled print through education, production, and collection.

Each full member, in good standing, shall be able to:

• have access to the studio/studio equipment 24/7 (excepting pre-determined times for classes, demos, or group projects and within the scope of the rental agreement)
• schedule the facility for exhibition at no charge as available
• schedule the facility to offer classes
• maintain work in the Studio bins or wall displays for sales as determined by the membership
• have assigned storage space (i.e. flat file drawer/cubicle space) [as available]
• have the option to be included in all studio sponsored “group shows”

Each member, to be considered in good standing, is required to comport themselves with civility with a spirit of cooperation and collaboration and at minimum comply with all financial and membership responsibilities including but not limited to:

• pay their membership dues in a timely manner
• serve on at least one PATT management committee/predetermined job
• attend a minimum of one general member’s meeting per year

Anyone interested in joining is encouraged to fill out an application, meet the existing members, request a tour of the PATT Studio and a copy of the Members Agreement.
