ABOUT THE FSG

You have the right to ask us about our charges, the type of advice we will provide you, and what you can do if you have a complaint about our services.

This Financial Services Guide (“FSG”) is intended to inform you of certain basic matters relating to our relationship, prior to us providing you with a financial service. The matters covered by the FSG include, who we are, how we can be contacted, what services we are authorised to provide to you, how we (and any other relevant parties) are remunerated, details of any potential conflicts of interest, and details of our internal and external dispute resolution procedures, along with how you can access them.

It is intended that this FSG should assist you in determining whether to use any of the services described in this document.

You should also be aware that you are entitled to receive a Statement of Advice whenever we provide you with any advice, which takes into account your objectives, financial situation and needs. The Statement of Advice will contain the advice, the basis on which it is given and information about fees, commissions and associations which may have influenced the provision of the advice.

If we provide you with further advice, and we do not provide it in writing, you may request a copy of the record of that advice. A copy is available at any time up to 7 years from the date our representative gave the advice to you. Further advice may be given by our representative if your personal circumstances have not significantly changed, and that further advice is related to the advice we provided to you in a previous Statement of Advice.

You can request the record of the advice by contacting the representative or us in writing or by telephone or by email.

In the event we make a recommendation to acquire a particular financial product (other than securities), we must also provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement containing information about the particular product, which will enable you to make an informed decision in relation to the acquisition of that product.

Who do you act for when you provide financial services for me?

Ethical Investment Advisers is responsible for the financial services provided to you.

How will I pay for the service?

Initial advice process

At your first meeting you will meet one of our advisers to talk about your goals and how we can help. One of the most important aspects of selecting a financial adviser is choosing someone you trust and feel comfortable working with.

From our discussion, we will have a good understanding of your situation and needs. With this knowledge we will quote you a flat fee for the full advice process.

Our goal is that you leave the first interview with a clear idea of what we can do for you and how much our advice will cost.

Ongoing advice

Should you choose to retain us for ongoing financial advice, fees are payable based on a percentage of your funds under our advice. Full details of the fees payable will be disclosed in your Statement of Advice.

Do you receive remuneration, commission, fees or other benefits in relation to your provision of financial services and how is that commission calculated?

1. Ethical Investment Advisers receives 100% of the fees and retains approximately 10% of all fees to cover a flat monthly administration fee of $2500 per month and Professional Indemnity costs. The remaining funds are paid to Tas Ethical Pty Ltd. Stuart Barry is a director and employee of Tas Ethical Pty Ltd and is paid a salary and may receive distributions/dividends from this entity.
2. From 1 July 2014, investment providers cannot pay commissions (other than those grandfathered); however insurance commissions may still apply
3. We do not receive a bonus from the licensee based on income generated.
4. If you have been referred to Tas Ethical by another party, then neither Ethical Investment Advisers, nor Tas Ethical will pay a fee to that party.
5. The exact amounts of any fees, commissions, bonuses or other incentives received by us and the licensee will be included in a Statement of Advice that we will provide to you.
