

Dr. David Campt

The Dialogue Guy

EXPERT. AUTHOR. SPEAKER. FACILITATOR.

Dr. David Campt is a nationally renowned in the areas of civic engagement, dialogue and deliberation, and collaborative decision-making. He teaches strategies for changing attitudes, behavior, and group culture around dialogue. David's innovative ideas and engaging personality cause groups to better address the challenges that confront them. His clients make new choices so that more people's insights are honored, relationships are improved, and collective goals are more effectively pursued. He is a dynamic and engaging speaker, facilitator, trainer, and strategist who helps ensure meetings and conferences meet objectives by enhancing conversation.

Expanding & Improving the Conversation

Dr. Campt's expertise has been honed over the course of many significant dialogue projects. He has organized nationally televised meetings for the President of the United States, addressed 1,000 foundation executives about the importance of civic engagement, and facilitated conversations about race among small groups of Congress people. David is the author of The Little Book of Dialogue for Difficult Subjects, which is used worldwide by conflict resolution professionals. His latest book is Read the Room for Real: How a Simple Technology Creates Better Meetings, which is the first text about audience polling as a tool to make any meeting more engaging and effective.

"One of the best facilitators I have ever been around"
Executive Director,
Davenport Institute,
Pepperdine University

Engaging Groups On Inspiring & Relevant Ideas, Issues, & Solutions

HARNESSING THE POWER OF DIALOGUE

Tap the wisdom of the group to make better decisions

21ST CENTURY FACILITATIVE LEADERSHIP

Overcome impediments to become a leader who does not fear feedback

COURAGEOUS CONVERSATIONS

Turn the corner on old societal divisions to propel group achievement

"What Dr. Campt does really is the next stage of community engagement."
Dr. Emily Janke, Director,
Community & Economic Engagement,
UNC Greensboro

Partial Client List

My services are useful to a wide diversity of groups, including community organizations, non-profit leaders, professional associations, corporate managers, social organizations, universities, and others.

Corporations

- Latham and Watkins
- Booz Allen
- Sodexo

Government

- The White House
- US Mint
- US Coast Guard
- Mayor, Washington DC

Non-profit sector

- Alliance for Non-Profit Management
- National Multi-Cultural Institute
- American Museum Association
- AFCSME

Colleges and Universities

- UC Berkeley
- American University
- University of South Dakota
- Trinity College

Philanthropy

- Council on Foundations
- Annie E. Casey Foundation
- Kellogg Foundation
- Sherwood Foundation

Media Appearances

- American Black Journal
- Fox 5 - Washington DC
- WDET – Detroit
- Black Entertainment Television
- Sundays with Rolanda
- Michael Baisden Show

Core Beliefs

- Groups have within them the collective wisdom to effectively address the challenges before them.
- Each person in a group - whether they are a designated leader or not – can play a role in helping a group unleash the collective wisdom to address its challenges.

CONTACT ME WHEN YOUR GROUP IS READY TO HAVE A UNIQUE EXPERIENCE THAT IS ENGAGING, PRODUCTIVE, AND TRANSFORMATIVE.

As a speaker, I inform, engage, and entertain groups with what I know about dialogue, individual and group empowerment, participant engagement, and leadership. I show these ideas are connected to collective wisdom, individual success, and effective action. People who attend my speeches are not just audience members, they are participants, because I enact the principles of group intelligence. I distill some of the collective wisdom that is present by creating actionable data that can help individuals and the group advance, become stronger, grow, and more.

