Family-Friendly Frozen Food Company Reaches out to Gluten-Free Community

Mom Made Foods' best-sellers, Cheesy Mac and Turkey Meatball Bites, join Mom Made's new gluten-free products

ALEXANDRIA, VA (February 9, 2015) – Recognizing the growing number of American families seeking gluten-free meals, Mom Made Foods, is introducing two new certified gluten-free products, Gluten-Free Turkey Meatball Bites and Gluten-Free Cheesy Mac Meal. The release of these new products will reach a broader demographic of consumers, making the brand accessible to families with gluten sensitivities. Both products will be available to try at Expo West Booth #2792 March 7-9, 2015.

The popularity of gluten-free children's food continues to rise. In 2010, just 5.3% of all children's food was sold as gluten free, but in 2013 that number rose to 10.7%. Just 1 in 133 Americans have been diagnosed with Celiac Disease, meaning that many gluten sensitive consumers are drawn to these specialty foods for reasons other than strict dietary restrictions. They are "healthier eaters ... and more influenced by natural and organic ingredients than the average global consumer" according to The Gluten-Free Agency. The Mom Made Gluten-Free Turkey Meatball Bites and Gluten-Free Cheesy Mac Meal were created out of this expanding demand.

"For the expanding population of families following a gluten-free diet, finding wholesome, great-tasting foods is a challenge. These new products are near to my heart as I have two immediate family members recently diagnosed with Celiac Disease. Whenever we gather, our entire meal is gluten free," says Heather Stouffer, CEO of Mom Made Foods. "Mom Made is proud to add gluten-free products to our existing product offerings that have the same healthy features families expect from us already – convenient, delicious meals with the highest quality ingredients and no added junk."

Creating a line of gluten-free products is the next logical step for Mom Made in providing yet another level of transparency for the Mom Made brand while feeding families who understand that convenient food doesn't have to mean unhealthy mealtimes.
