

Media Contact

Capital Region Housing (CRH) is committed to providing timely response to media enquiries.

Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Greg Dewling, is available to provide information to the media about CRH and the Londonderry Social Housing Development Project.

Background

Greg joined CRH in October 2013 in the role of CEO. CRH is proud to help over 25,000 Albertans live in a home they can afford through the direct management of 4500 social housing units, 600 affordable housing units and 3400 rent subsidies. www.crhc.ca

In addition, Greg is currently the President of the Alberta Public Housing Administrators Association (APHAA). APHAA is a professional organization, with over 120 members throughout Alberta, which focuses on education and networking. www.aphaa.org

Greg was recently appointed to the Board of Directors for the Chartered Institute of Housing Canada (CIH). CIH is an international organization for housing professionals. The Canadian Chapter facilitates the delivery of professional education and designations for public housing executives and managers. www.cih.org/Canada

Quotable Quotes

“We have an opportunity to invest in the social infrastructure of our society at a time that spurs the economy and maximizes the public investment.”

“We need a national blueprint for the regeneration of social housing that will enable all orders of government to weigh their contributions fairly.”

“I’ve never hit a target I didn’t aim for – A National Affordable Housing Blueprint will set the course for regenerating close to 600,000 social housing units across the country.”

“It may take a few years. However, with a blueprint for success, we can regenerate social housing in a sustainable way.”
