134th Ohio General Assembly

2021 Scorecard Update

About the OEC Action Fund & Scorecard

The Ohio Environmental Council (OEC) Action Fund is the accountability and lobbying arm of the OEC family of organizations. We know smart policies are only useful when our elected leaders have the courage to act. The OEC Action Fund ensures lawmakers are supported when they act in the interest of Ohio's environment and are held accountable when they vote to support policies which harm our air, land, water or democracy. When election time comes, we remind voters where candidates stand on environmental protection, conservation, and climate, actively endorsing and supporting candidates who champion our issues.

We've created the OEC Action Fund Scorecard to both hold lawmakers accountable for votes that damage our environment, and celebrate our environmental champions. The scorecard focuses on four policy areas: energy, water, public lands and democracy.

The narratives and scores included reflect the administration's and state lawmakers' actions on key environmental decisions and legislation during the first half of the 134th Ohio General Assembly, which spanned 2021. For this snapshot, we've given the DeWine administration a score that takes into account its policy stances on our four key focus areas. For the Ohio General Assembly members, you'll see how each member voted on our key legislation, actions they took to sponsor or co-sponsor legislation, and their overall score.

Most importantly, you'll see the environmental policy picture for the state of Ohio. We share our outlook on key legislation needed to ensure a healthier environment for all Ohioans.

REVIEW: Gov. DeWine & Administration

Governor DeWine has continued to be a leader on land and water during the first three years of his term, further solidifying the H2Ohio program and continuing to acquire public lands growing Ohio's parks and natural areas. Unfortunately, House Bill 6 (2019) largely remains a part of Ohio revised code and Governor DeWine has failed to challenge the powerful electric utility and coal lobby or temper extreme anti-clean energy legislators. As a member of the Ohio Redistricting Commission, Governor DeWine voted in favor of the Legislative district maps that have since been deemed by the Ohio Supreme Court as unconstitutional, and he signed the legislation establishing the Congressional district maps. Both sets of district maps are tied up in court due to their current unconstitutionality, leaving Ohio's democracy in limbo.

Given these strengths and weaknesses, DeWine receives a moderate score in the OEC Action Fund's Mid-Biennium Scorecard.

Scorecard Methodology

The OEC Action Fund Scorecard is modeled off of the National Environmental Scorecard facilitated by the League of Conservation Voters to score environmental actions in Congress. The scorecard uses a very simple methodology and involves no weighting of certain bills over others. The Action Fund tracked votes and actions on bills which fell into our core advocacy areas of water, public lands, energy and democracy. We notified lawmakers in advance when they were being scored on a vote for a particular bill. In a few cases, lawmakers were not notified as a result of last minute changes to bills or votes being scheduled with little to no time for public comment.

For each bill the OEC Action Fund scored, we tracked the floor vote, the committee vote, and bill sponsors—including primary and cosponsors—at the time of bill introduction. If the bill was an anti-environment bill, we labeled the sponsorship and “yes” votes on the bill with the color red, representing negative actions and votes. Conversely, “no” votes on anti-environment bills were marked with green. If the bill was a pro-environment bill, we labeled the sponsorship and “yes” votes on the bill with the color green, representing positive actions and votes. “No” votes on pro-environment bills were marked with the color red.

To determine the final score for each lawmaker, we added up their total positive actions and the total negative actions. We then divided the number of positive actions by the total number of actions (positive and negative actions) to create a score which falls on a scale of zero to one. For purposes of the scoresheet, we multiplied the score by 10 to create a whole number. Lawmakers who missed votes were not penalized in this scoring system, as missed votes were omitted from the calculation of the final score.

The scoring system was applied equally to all lawmakers. Lawmakers who cast fewer than four votes in the 134th Ohio General Assembly were not eligible for the scorecard. If a lawmaker stepped down from the legislature or was appointed to a different position in the midst of the legislative session, the most recently serving member for that district was listed in our scoring spreadsheet. As we continue developing our scorecard for future General Assemblies, we will refine our methodology and inform legislators of our adjustments.

Legislation Descriptions

Below is the list of legislation that the OEC Action Fund actively tracked and scored during the first half of the 2021-2022 General Assembly period. This list provides the House Bill (HB) and Senate Bill (SB) number, a brief description of each bill and the primary sponsor(s) for each bill. Bills with a green checkmark are pro-environmental bills and bills with a red X are anti-environmental bills. More information about each bill can be found at www.legislature.ohio.gov
