PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS
Thursday, November 8, 1984

Site: The Holiday Inn, 328 West Lane Avenue, Columbus

9:00 a.m.: Registration and coffee. (First floor of the Holiday Inn)

Note: All workshops are scheduled to run from 9:30 a.m. to Noon, and from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

A: Developing a Professional Responsibility Curriculum in Professional School Settings
Leaders: Prof. Muriel J. Bebeau, School of Dentistry, University of Minnesota, specializes in the development of materials and assessment of techniques in applied ethics. Prof. James R. Rest, also at the University of Minnesota, is well-known for his publications and research instruments for assessing moral reasoning and distinguishing ethical issues. Prof. Marcia M. Mentkowski, Alverno College, specializes in the assessment of value education at Alverno College. All three collaborated in the 1982 National Conference of the Association for Moral Education's program on Ethics in Professional Education.
Workshop: Drawing on their experience in developing, implementing, and evaluating courses in applied ethics, the workshop leaders will discuss strategies for involving faculty in the design and development of such courses. Materials for presentation include video-tapes for faculty development, ethical dilemmas designed for law, dentistry, and nursing, and samples of dramas and scoring methods designed to assess ethical sensitivity.

B: Dilemma Discussion Techniques with Special Application to Anti-Social Youth

Leaders: Profs. John C. Gibbs, The Ohio State University, and Jack Arbuthnot, Ohio University. Dr. Gibbs, first author of Social Intelligence, has used dilemma-discussion intervention techniques with incarcerated youth, while Dr. Arbuthnot, first author of Teaching Moral Reasoning: Theory and Practice, has used such techniques with behavior-disordered youth still in school. Both have reported their research in recent conference presentations and journal articles (e.g., Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology).

Workshop: This workshop will focus on the adaptation of Dilemma-Discussion Techniques to anti-social youth through study of appropriate dilemma content, actual discussion segments, techniques for maximizing peer challenge processes, and other topics. Appropriate for educators, counselors, youth workers, corrections personnel, and others working with behavior-disordered adolescents.

C: Family Communication and Problem-Solving: Intervention Techniques.

Leader: Prof. Donald A. Gordon, Ohio University. Prof. Gordon has conducted research on behavioral-systems therapy with families of delinquents in Georgia and Ohio. His work has been published in the Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology, and several book chapters on the subject are in press.

Workshop: This workshop will provide guidance and training in the implementation of behavioral-systems (Alexander, Parsons) family therapy techniques.

D: Introduction to Methods for Facilitating Moral Development in Elementary and Secondary Schools

Leader: Dr. David Sachs, who has taught in public schools for 12 years, and who for the past 5 years has co-taught for the Institute of Moral Development at the Harvard University Graduate School of Education. Dr. Sachs wrote and coordinated the Ethical Issues in Decision-Making grant, a project in which Kohlberg's theory of cognitive moral development was implemented on the secondary school level.

Workshop: In this introductory workshop, participants will have the opportunity to learn about Kohlberg's theory of cognitive moral development and its implications for classroom practice. In this hands-on workshop, participants will learn about the stages of moral development, the components of a moral dilemma discussion, and the materials available for implementing moral education in the elementary and secondary schools.

E: Methods of Evaluating Moral Education Interventions

Leader: Mark B. Tappan, Doctoral Candidate and Research Associate at the Harvard University Graduate School of Education Center for Moral Development and Education. Tappan has been a workshop leader at Kohlberg's Moral Judgment Scoring Workshop for the past two years. He has conducted various studies entailing use of most of the measures to be studied.

Workshop: This workshop will feature hands-on experience as well as discussion of general methodological and theoretical issues involved in the use of various Kohlberg-related moral judgment instruments (the Moral Judgment Interview, the Defining Issues Test, the Sociomoral Reflection Measure, the Sociomoral Reflection Objective measure) in diverse research contexts, especially moral education interventions.

F: The Moral Atmosphere of the School

Leaders: Prof. Clark Power, Notre Dame University; and Dr. Ann Higgins, Mellon Scholar, Henry A. Murray Research Center, Radcliffe College. For six years Drs. Power and Higgins collaborated on the Just Community School Project at the Center for Moral Education at Harvard University.

Workshop: This workshop will focus on assessment of the moral atmosphere of schools and on the relevance of this assessment for educational efforts in the areas of moral education, discipline, counseling, and school organization. Instruction will be provided in the administration and scoring of semi-clinical and multiple-choice Moral Atmosphere Interviews.

G: Raising Good Children

Leader: Prof. Thomas Lickona, State University of New York at Cortland. Dr. Lickona is author of Raising Good Children: Helping Your Child Through the Stages of Moral Development.

Workshop: This workshop will summarize research on parenting and moral development, and then focus on practical methods of fostering moral growth at each developmental stage (preschool through teens). Real-life examples will be used to illustrate effective strategies for handling teenage problems of sex, drugs, and drinking. Appropriate for parents, parent-educators, and teachers of courses on child-rearing or moral education.

H: Responsible Sexual Decision-Making

Leader: Prof. Anne M. Juhasz, Loyola University. Dr. Juhasz is author of Sexual Development and Behavior and Adolescents in Society, and is the originator of the Sexual Decision-Making Model (reproduced and utilized widely for teaching responsible adolescent sexual behavior).

Workshop: This workshop will deal with influences on sexual decision-making and on utilization of the Sexual Decision-Making Process Model.
TRAVEL AND HOTEL INFORMATION

The Saturday (November 10) sessions of the Conference as well as the pre-conference workshops (November 8) will be held at the Holiday Inn on the Lane, located on the northern border of the Ohio State University, 328 West Lane Avenue. The walk from the Inn to the Ohio Union, on campus, where the Friday sessions will be held, takes about 20 minutes. The Inn is reserving sleeping room reservations at a special convention rate of $33.00 for a single, and $39.00 for a double. To secure the convention rate, you must make your reservation by October 17, 1984, mentioning your AME affiliation. The telephone number for Holiday Inn reservations is (614) 294-4848. There is free parking at the Inn for those driving in, and free limousine service from the Port Columbus Airport for those arriving by plane.

The next most convenient hotel is the Fawcett Center for Tomorrow, located also on the northern side of the Ohio State University Campus, 2400 Olentangy River Road. Rates at the Fawcett Center are the same as those at the Holiday Inn; the telephone number for Fawcett Center reservations is (614) 421-2400. The walk from the Fawcett Center to the Holiday Inn takes approximately 10 minutes, and to the Ohio Union takes approximately 30 minutes.

Minimal-expense sleeping rooms are available at the YMCA or YWCA in downtown Columbus, both of which are convenient to city bus service to campus ($60 one way). The policy is first come-first served, however, so call immediately upon arrival in Columbus. A room at the YMCA, 40 West Long Street, is $15.14, and the phone number is 224-1131; at the YWCA, 65 South Fourth Street, the rate is $20.00, and the phone number is 224-9121.
