The Society of American Indian Dentists (SAID) entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with Colgate Bright Smiles Bright Futures (BSBF) in July of 2011. Since this agreement was signed, the leadership and members of SAID have begun to crisscross the country with the Colgate van providing hundreds of dental screening for American Indian children. They have disseminated oral health products and educational materials to our nation’s First Families compliments of Colgate Palmolive. The mission of the SAID and their commitment to BSBF continues to be realized through the events proudly recorded, including:
