TPRC 2022
THE RESEARCH CONFERENCE ON COMMUNICATIONS, INFORMATION AND INTERNET POLICY
SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES
www.tprcweb.com
This year celebrates the 50th year of the “Research Conference on Communications, Information and Internet Policy.” The initial event brought together 15 presenters in 1972 under the auspices of the White House Office of Telecommunications Policy in Washington, DC.

To commemorate the 50th anniversary, TPRC 2022 will explore and celebrate its rich history of interdisciplinary research and debate on policy issues through special offerings during the year and at the annual conference in September, 2022.

Telecommunications Policy Research Conference, Inc. (TPRC), a non-profit entity under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, organizes the annual conference plus current-issue educational webinars, Capitol Hill research briefings and active engagement with policy researchers from around the globe.

WHAT DOES TPRC OFFER?

➤ The annual Research Conference on Communications, Information and Internet Policy

- A two-day gathering of roughly 350 multidisciplinary researchers, policymakers, industry, legal, and educators from law, economics, engineering, computer science, public policy, data science, and related fields

- A program of over 90 peer-reviewed paper presentations, panels, and keynotes plus robust networking

- A global event recognized for its academic quality, intellectual rigor, mutual respect, diversity, and collegiality

➤ TPRC’s Webinar Series presents timely information on current and emerging policy issues

- Topics have included Antitrust, International Data Transfers, Facial Recognition, Mass Surveillance, and COVID-19 Policy Implications

- Thought-leaders from academia, government and industry present their latest research in these relevant online sessions

➤ Capitol Hill Briefings in Washington, DC

- Leading U.S. and global researchers present critical policy research findings to an audience of elected representatives and legislative staff
BENEFITS OF CONTRIBUTING AS A TPRC SPONSOR

- Exposure to the latest communications and broadband policy research and analysis by distinguished global authors
- Opportunities to advance specific research topics and gain visibility with policy analysts and regulators
- Robust opportunities to network with scholars, regulators, practitioners, and thought-leaders from many disciplines, entities and nationalities
- Participation in quality programming including the annual research conference, webinars, town halls, plenary sessions, and social networking
- Generous benefit offerings, including complimentary conference registrations, speaker introductions, global publicity, and web-based visibility

As a 501(c)(3) organization, TPRC accepts financial contributions each year from academics, industry, foundations, advocacy organizations, research institutes, and others to support the various programs offered by TPRC. Contributions also help keep our registration fees well below other policy conferences.

We welcome your participation as a TPRC Sponsor. TPRC’s Sponsor Relations Coordinator will answer questions and provide additional details at your request.
