

Curriculum Vitae, May 2016

Keaton Miller

Address

Department of Economics
1285 University of Oregon
Eugene, OR 97403

Email: keatonm@uoregon.edu
Website: <http://keatonmiller.org>
Phone: 541-346-4653

Education

University of Minnesota Ph.D., Economics, July 2015
Fields: Industrial Organization, Applied Microeconomics,
Applied Econometrics
Dissertation Title: Applications of Imperfect Competition in Dynamic Settings
Dissertation Advisor: Amil Petrin

University of Wisconsin - Madison B.S. Economics, Mathematics, May 2008, Phi Beta Kappa

Employment

Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, University of Oregon, 2015 – Present.

Working Papers

1. Miller, K. (2016) Do private Medicare firms have lower costs?
2. Miller, K., Petrin, A., Town, R. and Chernew, M. (2016) The costs and benefits of varying the Medicare Advantage reimbursement rate

3. Miller, K., Hansen, B., and Weber, C. (2016) The highs and lows of new market entrants: Evidence from Washington's recreational marijuana market
4. Miller, K. and Petrin, A. (2015) The economic impact of a slowdown in trial court disposition
5. Miller, K. and Clarke, K. (2016) Does premerger notification matter? Evidence from cable television

Work in Progress

1. Switching costs and returns in factor markets (with David Evans)
2. Equilibrium approximation with heterogeneous consumers and continuous state spaces
3. Is cable a game of Risk? Evidence of strategic acquisitions (with Kailin Clarke)

Conference Participation

1. "The highs and lows of new market entrants: Evidence from Washington's recreational recreational marijuana market" Cannabis Science and Policy Summit, New York City, April, 2016
2. "Do private Medicare firms have lower costs?" Midwest Economic Association Annual Meeting, Minneapolis, Minnesota, 2015; International Industrial Organization Conference, Boston, April, 2015
3. "Does premerger notification matter? Evidence from cable television" International Industrial Organization Conference, Philadelphia, April, 2016
4. "Health plan changes in response to Medicare Advantage payment rates," North American Summer Meeting of the Econometric Society, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota, July 2014

Seminars and Workshops

"Do private Medicare firms have lower costs?"
2015: Indiana University, University of Connecticut, University of Oregon,
University of Miami, Rochester University

Professional Service

Referee for

- Economic Inquiry
- Journal of Public Economics