

Help birds migrate safely!

MAR-MAY 11PM-6AM AUG-OCT

Two thirds of songbirds migrate at night!

Light pollution from cities can cause these birds to get confused as they fly. They get lost in cities, and can die in collisions with buildings. Millions of birds die this way in North America annually. Luckily, there is an easy solution:

Turn out all unnecessary lights from 11pm-6am during peak bird migration - March-May and August-October
