Greetings!

We are excited for you and your students to attend Bunnicula, with music by Chris Jeffries, book by John Klein, and based on the books by James & Deborah Howe, at the Birmingham Children’s Theatre. We invite you to use this packet in your classroom to prepare for and reflect on your upcoming visit.

This packet is designed to assist you in introducing the play’s plot, characters, settings, language, and themes to your students. We encourage you to use these activities prior to the show to guide your students to a better understanding and enjoyment of what they will see at the theatre, and also after you visit to reinforce the show’s themes and tie them into the STEM curriculum.

Thank you for helping to extend the learning process beyond theatre walls and for instilling an appreciation of the arts in the lives of Birmingham children.

See you at the theatre!

Birmingham Children’s Theatre
In this hilarious musical, the Monroe family animals, Chester the cat and Harold the dog, tell the tale of a mysterious bunny who comes to live in their house. It was a dark and stormy night (of course) and the Monroe’s have just returned from the movies where they have seen a vampire flick. While there, they found a bunny sitting in one of the seats. They had to bring him home; they couldn’t just leave him there! Chester and Harold are not thrilled with this new addition to the family. The rabbit is given the name Bunnicula and is there only a short time before dreadful things begin to happen. A tomato in the kitchen turns white. Soon other vegetables begin to lose their colors! The Monroe’s assume that the veggies have gone bad or that maybe they need to change grocery stores. Chester, through her fine detective work, figures out that the rabbit is a vampire and she tries several ways of stopping him from destruction. But depriving Bunnicula of his vegetables makes him lethargic and sad. It is Harold who makes everyone understand that Bunnicula must have his veggie juice in order to survive. In the end Chester and Harold find room in their hearts for a very special bunny. Based on the books that have delighted millions of children since 1979, Bunnicula lives on in this silly, only slightly scary romp.

HISTORY

DRACULA...VAMPIRE...BUNNICULA?!?

In Due to Chester’s obsession with horror tales and his insistence that the bunny the Monroes bring home is a blood-sucking monster, Bunnicula is chock-full of references to vampires and methods for vanquishing them. Discuss the following with your students:

Who is Dracula?

Dracula is the central character in the novel Dracula, by Irish author Bram Stoker, written in 1897. Stoker was inspired by reading the accounts of Vlad Tepes, or Vlad the Impaler, a Romanian count from the 1400s. Vlad’s father belonged to the secretive group Order of the Dragon (or Dracul, in Romanian). Tepes, being the son of a Dracul, was titled Vlad Dracula. Historical reports of Vlad depict his as a terrible, cruel man who, by some accounts, killed tens of thousands of people during his lifetime. For hundreds of years it was said that Vlad Tepes was a vampire, but it was Stoker who created the foundation of the Dracula we know today. Dracula is depicted as a tall, old man wearing black, with a long white moustache and two pointy sharp teeth that stick out from his mouth, over his bottom lip. Since Stoker’s book was written, dozens of Hollywood movies and television shows based on Dracula, or inspired by its depiction of vampires, have generated. These movies and shows have changed the popular ideas of what a vampire is. Notably the most influential Dracula film was the 1931 movie Dracula, starring Hungarian actor Bela Lugosi. Lugosi’s dialect—“I vant to suck your bluhd”—and physical representation of Dracula, complete with slicked-back black hair and a receding hairline, inspired the Halloween costume-version of vampires today.

What is a vampire?

For thousands of years there have been stories told all over the world of blood-sucking monsters. Today, we usually think of a vampire as Bram Stoker’s character Dracula and the movies, plays, and television programs that followed. This has led to the creation of many fun “Dracula” characters, such as The Count on Sesame Street, or Count Chocula, of cereal fame. Here are references to how vampires are most commonly depicted:

- Vampires are ‘undead’ humans who are cursed to roam the earth drinking blood.
- Vampires have two pointy teeth, with which they bite people in the neck.
- Vampires wear formal evening wear (usually a fancy tuxedo-like suit) and a large black cape with a high collar.
- Vampires sleep in coffins during the daytime and come out only at night.
- Vampires have the ability to turn into bats.
- Vampires cannot be seen through their reflection in a mirror.
- Vampires traditionally live in old, abandoned castles in Transylvania.
PET FOOD LIST

In the story, Bunnicula, Harold and Chester eat foods that can be extremely toxic to pets in real life, especially dogs. While the Monroe family animals stay happy and healthy on their unusual diets, regular dogs and cats can get very sick from eating an improper diet. Here are some examples of what foods to avoid feeding dogs and cats. Please share with your students and ask them not to share these “people foods” with them:

Foods to Avoid: For Dogs & Cats

• Baby food
• Bacon
• Chocolate, including chocolate cupcake
• Coffee, tea and other caffeine
• Grapes and raisins
• Macadamia nuts
• Milk, cheese, and other dairy products
• Moldy or spoiled food, garbage
• Mushrooms
• Onion and garlic (raw, cooked, or powder)
• Raw eggs
• Raw fish
• Salt
• Yeast dough

Discuss with your students other pets they have, and what kind of food they should avoid feeding them.
VEGGIE MATCH-UPS

What do these vegetables have in common?

1. Arugula
2. Bok Choy
3. Carrots
4. Celery
5. Cucumbers
6. Endive
7. Garlic
8. Lettuce
9. Onions
10. Parsnips
11. Tomato
12. Zucchini

Give up? They are all mentioned in Bunnicula (and some of them even figure into the plot!). Although you’ve probably heard of—and maybe even eaten—most of these veggies, some you may not recognize. Try matching each vegetable with its correct description below.

_____ a. These contain more sugar than any other vegetable, except beets.
_____ b. Also called “rocket,” this is a leafy relative of cabbage and broccoli.
_____ c. Serve it steamed, fried, sautéed, grilled, stuffed or baked into bread or muffins.
_____ d. Its Chinese name literally means “white vegetable”—how appropriate!
_____ e. Every part of this is edible—leaves, roots, stems and seeds.
_____ f. The botanical name of this juicy fruit means “wolf-peach.”
_____ g. These are loved by pigs, horses, and cattle (as well as some people).
_____ h. California is the leading U.S. producer of this popular favorite.
_____ i. Better have a hankie handy when cutting into these smelly things.
_____ j. These were first brought to America by Columbus, who was “cool as a…”
_____ k. Other names for this prickly leaf are chicory, escarole, and witloof.
_____ l. Gilroy, CA is the Capital of the World as far as lovers of this are concerned.
CHARACTER CREATIONS

How much do you know about a character? In most plays, playwrights provide limited detailed character information, which can make it challenging for actors and actresses to create believable characters. In reality, it is impossible for the playwright to provide all of the character information, because of how lengthy it would be. But this also gives more freedom of interpretation, allowing the director and actors make their own discoveries, and the play to change and grow from production to production.

The following exercise is often used by actors and actresses to help them complete their characters.

Pick a character from Bunnicula and answer the following questions. (Characters: Bunnicula, Chester, Harold, Pete, Toby, Mr. Monroe, and Mrs. Monroe.) There is no correct answer for each question, but try to answer the questions according to what you already know about your character. Feel free to make up the answers.

1. How old are you? ________________

2. How would you describe your personality? ____________________________________________

3. Where do you live? _____________________________________________

YUMMY CUPCAKES WITH A BUNNICULA TWIST!

A chocolate cupcake is one of Harold’s favorite foods. Even though a dog should never eat anything with chocolate in it, you definitely can enjoy several of these cupcakes with a twist! How about a chocolate-zucchini cupcake?!

INGREDIENTS:

• 2 (1 ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
• 3 eggs
• 1 3/4 cups packed brown sugar
• 1 cup vegetable oil
• 2 cups all-purpose flour
• 1 teaspoon baking powder
• 1 teaspoon baking soda
• 1/2 teaspoon salt
• 2 cups grated zucchini
• 3/4 cup chopped walnuts
• 1 (16 ounce) can chocolate frosting
• 1/2 cup walnut halves

DIRECTIONS:

1. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F.
2. In a large bowl, beat eggs with sugar for about 10 minutes or until thickened and pale. Blend oil and cooled chocolate into the beaten egg mixture.
3. In a small bowl stir together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt; stir flour mixture into egg mixture until just blended. Stir in zucchini and chopped nuts.
4. Using an ice-cream scoop, spoon batter into 24 paper-lined or greased muffin cups, filling the cups 2/3 full.
5. Bake for 20 minutes or until fork or toothpick inserted in a cupcake’s center comes out clean. Let cool in pans on rack for 10 minutes. Remove from pans; let cool completely. Spread with chocolate frosting and garnish with walnut halves.
WHAT TIME IS IT?

Many people believe that dogs can tell the time, not by using a clock but by using their memories. Dogs have been known to show up at their master’s door every day at the same hour, to return home to their master, just like Harold. Harold is not your ordinary dog, however—he wants to learn how to use a clock and measure time. Please help him learn about time by solving the questions below:

1. The Monroes went to see Dracula at a movie theater. The film began at 5:50 P.M. and was over by 7:45 P.M. How long was the movie Dracula, in minutes?

2. While defrosting the steak, Mrs. Monroe went to pick up Mr. Monroe at the college. It took Mrs. Monroe 47 minutes round trip. She left home at 6:30 P.M. When did she get home again? 3. How long did Bunnicula sleep if he went to bed at 9:40 A.M. and woke up at 7:20 P.M.?

4. The Monroes left home at 4:42 P.M. to drive to the pet store. The drive took them 23 minutes. What time did they arrive?

5. Harold played with Pete for 14 minutes, walked with Toby for 36 minutes and sat in the kitchen with Mrs. Monroe for 45 minutes. What was the total time that Harold spent that day with the Monroes?

6. It is now 10:45 A.M. Chester started to put garlic around the house 35 minutes ago. What time did he start his job?

7. Mrs. Monroe made some homemade cupcakes. She began making them on Saturday morning at 8:29 A.M. She finished baking the cupcakes by 9:33 A.M. How long did it take her? 8. Harold and Chester were on night patrol from 9:45 P.M. to 5:55 A.M. How long was the night patrol?
