

Project Highlights:

Education and Outreach Programs

Wild Wise is committed to providing accessible materials, workshops and information about human-wildlife relationships and conflict solutions to the public. Watch our website and Facebook page for upcoming events, new initiatives, tips and links to other organizations.

Bear-proof Bin Pilot Project

Beginning in 2013, Wild Wise has engaged over 100 Yukon residents in a participatory research project investigating the effectiveness of bear proof locks on household waste carts. The project is on-going and intends to inform a city-wide approach to reducing waste-related conflicts with wildlife.

Whitehorse Bear Working Group

Wild Wise is partnering with the City of Whitehorse and Environment Yukon to address and reduce human-wildlife conflict. With our eye on becoming a "BearSmart" community, we are excited about this new collaboration.

Join Us!

Your membership will help us reduce human-wildlife conflict, and will entitle you to the following benefits:

- A welcome package, including a copy of our most recent Annual Report
- Voting privileges and the opportunity to join our Board of Directors
- Option to participate in studies and participatory research projects (e.g. bear-resistant locks)
- Notification for all workshops and other opportunities presented by WildWise

Membership fees and donations support WildWise initiatives.

You can help wildlife in your community stay wild!
