

Welcome, Meg Sippey, to the WCO family!

CORRECTION: A previously sent email included an incorrect start time for our Sunday, April 24 performance at Lisner Auditorium. The performance will begin at 6 PM, not 7. Thank you, and our apologies for the confusion.

Hi Friend of WCO,

The Board and Staff of Washington Concert Opera are pleased to announce the appointment of a new Executive Director beginning Monday, April 18!

We feel very privileged to have Meg Sippey as our new Executive Director. Meg has significant management experience at a number of classical music organizations, such as the Bay Atlantic Symphony, Omaha Symphony, Memphis Symphony Orchestra, and Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. Her opera-specific experience includes positions at Aspen Opera Theater and Houston Grand Opera. Prior to becoming an arts management professional, she was a professional musician (flutist).

Meg will be in attendance at Orphée, so if you don't already have your tickets, click the button below and help us give her a warm welcome!

SUSANNA PHILLIPS

Sunday, May 1, 2022, 4:00 pm, Waterford Old School

Alabama-born soprano Susanna Phillips continues to establish herself as one of today's most sought-after singing actors and recitalists. A regular at the Met and major opera houses and venues worldwide, "she has the purity and bloom of a Mozart lyric soprano, yet her voice can lift phrases with penetrating sound and deep richness." — Anthony Tommasini, New York Times. Sponsored by Charlotte Gollobin. Supporting sponsors Lynn and Bishop Sheehan.

$35 adult, $15 student, children 12 and under free
