

One World Eligibility and Criteria

Before you apply to be a One World Champion and partner, please be sure to review these guidelines and assess whether you and the organization are aligned with One World's mission and values. Only organizations and prospective champions with ability to succeed in the program will be contacted.

I- Eligibility

One World main eligibility is the 6 core values listed below which we believe are fundamental to advance and achieve our mission and vision.

Community: we value the local knowledge of community-based organizations. We believe that our Partners have strong leadership, knowledge of their communities and issues, and are trusted by the community which enables them to spend funds effectively to serve local children.

Generosity: One World community gives generously of their time, finances, and expertise to advance the vision.

Respect: we seek to always respect the worthiness of all individuals and communities. We thrive to ensure a dignified portrayal of all those that we work with.

Compassion: One World community acts with abundant compassion - taking every opportunity to better understand each other and act together. We understand that true compassion is not "pity" but rather working together open mindedly to make the world a better place.

Transparency: we are transparent about all the work that we do and how we make decisions. We are honest about both the successes and the challenges that we face.

Reciprocity: One World community gives back through sharing their knowledge and skills through volunteering, donating, networking, and any other contributions that will help enhance our work and grow organization and partners.

II- Criteria

NB: The criteria for the prospective champion and partner are listed below in no particular order. The criteria are computed into a scoring system to determine if an application should go the One World Board.
