Position Statement:

As an active member of the MSRT and ASRT, I am proud to state that I am a Radiologic Technologist. I often tell others that I too remember the time when I was not a member, spouting the typical justifications of; "I don't have the time", "I work too much" or "I don't know anybody so I could never get involved". However, those were just excuses. Somewhere I decided that this is my chosen profession and if I do not support it, who will. Giving back to our professional societies is a great way to give something back to a career that has been pretty good to us. Whether it is taking time to volunteer for a committee, running for an office, speaking at one of our conferences or, it can even be just simply becoming a member. The dues help us provide CE, scholarships and student review programs going. Service on behalf of your profession and the members of this society is our legacy. The members of this organization cover every modality and position within the radiology environment, it is not what you bring, all that is asked is that you come, come with a commitment to be a servant first and a leader second.

Over the past several years, I have begun a journey of service to our national organization along with the MSRT. This has been very satisfying to me professionally, and I am looking forward to continuing this service for a while longer. There is now discussion at the national level as to how we can help our affiliates. Recently, the ASRT has enacted the Affiliate Development Program, to help those affiliates that may be struggling to recruit and retain members, and there are many affiliates in this predicament (including Michigan). They have also instituted a financial program to help keep the affiliates in a healthy position to help their membership. And this year there was a proposal to investigate a dual ASRT/Affiliate dues program. This is how we give back to our profession, by working both nationally and at the state and local level to do what we can for all imaging professionals. I would love your support that I may continue serving you, the members of the Michigan Society of Radiologic Technologists.

Thank you for your dedication to our profession, and as always, I look forward to serving the members of the MSRT.

Respectfully:

Rex A. Miller
