Why join the Board?

Joining the WPIRG Board will provide you with unique and valuable experience using consensus decision-making, creating budgets, working with and supporting staff, evaluating events and projects, conducting long-term visioning and supporting student action within a not-for-profit environment.

What do Board members actually do?

- Participate in decision-making at regular board meetings
- Make sure activities are operated under our mandate and the organization's activities operate within an anti-oppression framework
- Participate in committees of the Board working on specific issues, such as outreach and engagement, AGM planning, developing policies and activist development
- Collaborate with staff to set annual priorities through extensive visioning processes
- Track the needs, challenges and successes of WPIRG throughout the year - conduct regular evaluations of staff, events, projects and priorities
- Support staff in their work with projects, Action Groups and organizational development - recruit, hire and support new staff, when necessary
- Develop an annual budget and monitor spending through the Treasurer
- Recruit and train new Board members, and hold annual elections and meetings
- Monitor organizational policies and by-laws and update them when necessary

Board members can also:

- Represent WPIRG at OPIRG network meetings, and work to strengthen the network - conduct research for new WPIRG initiatives and projects
- Work with staff to apply for grants, plan events, and network with other groups - participate in volunteer orientation, training and appreciation
- Represent WPIRG at events and meetings
- Identify and participate in opportunities for board and staff development

Most of these tasks are done in collaboration with staff, who provide valuable knowledge, support and institutional memory.

What is the time commitment?

Board members are elected for 2-year terms and should be prepared to dedicate between 3-6 hours per week, including attending Board meetings, reading documents, reading emails, participating in committee work and any additional details. Board members are eligible to take a 4-month leave of absence for co-op or other commitments.

Should you run?

Yes – If you are a UW full-time undergraduate student or community member (non-full time undergraduate students) who preferably has some familiarity with WPIRG; if you are enthusiastic, motivated, positive, organized, group-oriented, committed and willing to learn; and if you want to support other students in creating social and environmental change. WPIRG promotes learning through experience and is committed to creating a supportive learning environment in which incoming board members will gain the skills to be a great board member! WPIRG welcomes the contributions that individuals from marginalized communities bring to our organization, and invites aboriginal people, people of colour, women, lesbians, gays, bisexuals, transgenderd people, trans-sexuals, intersexed people, working class people, single parents, members of ethnic minorities, immigrants, and people with disabilities to run.
