“I don't think it's an accident that we've reached gender parity in primary but not secondary education,” she said. “When they [girls] hit adolescence and start to develop into women, and are suddenly subject to all of their societies’ biases around gender, that is precisely when they start to fall behind in their education.”

Acrylic and mixed media on paper.
16" X 16" (framed)

Vinita (b.1983) earned her BFA (2005), and MFA (2008) from the Delhi College of Art. Her inspiration comes from India's rich cultural heritage mixed with India's modern urban culture. She is best known for her signature 'rolled' art – images of iconic feminist women and men created from miniature canvases painted with old scrolls, Sanskrit texts, modern newspaper print, paper, photo images and paint.

She has had multiple solo shows in Asia and Europe (the most recent one in Lisbon), and been part of over 20 group shows and exhibitions in India, Singapore, Dubai, Portugal, Spain and the UK. She is the recipient of numerous awards and accolades. She was one of very few young artists whose work was selected for and sold out at the India Art Fair three years in a row.

"I was inspired by Obama to create this work. He is a leader, a caring husband, a doting father, a force for good, and an inspiring story-teller."

5. GETAWAY IN TUSCANY CASA SOGNI, CORTONA

Casa Sogni is nestled in a small hamlet, right underneath the Cortona city walls. Up until the late 1950s, this beautiful casa was a convent. The enchanting garden features an olive grove, with trees over 200 years old. Casa Sogni has spectacular views of the valley, Lake Trasimeno and the Cortona hillside.

The house has been beautifully restored with a modern interior. It sleeps 4 with 2 bedrooms, 2 full baths, kitchen, dining and living areas. It has all the amenities, and as a plus, a wine cellar and a luxurious hydro-massage bath tub. It is a 10-minute walk from the town center.

6. BHARTTI VERMA. INDIA

The Bath Tub. Inner Spaces Series. 2015
Oil on paper
34" X 27" (framed)

Bhartti (b.1987) is a Delhi based artist, and received her MFA (2012) and her BFA (2010) from the Delhi College of Art, each with gold medal distinction. Her signature is her control over scale, proportions and spatial dimensions. Bhartti lives and works in a small apartment crammed in a narrow street that cannot contain the two wheelers, surge of humanity and office bound cars all competing and jostling for space. Her paintings are a withdrawal, a call for inner sanctity. She has exhibited in over 16 shows and received 8 awards.

Bhartti's Story: "I have painted the tranquility and quiet spaces that I crave amidst the chaos all around me in Delhi, where I was born and where I live. I hope viewers of my work can experience the same peacefulness and calm that I seek in these spaces. My cities are dwellings, a grid of living spaces, a matrix, a womb. My objects are metaphors for day to day life, my titles speak for themselves."

Starting Bid: $ 1,900
