

REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

November 27, 2013

"As true buyer's agents, we wanted to introduce Evans Real Estate Investments to the Upper West Side neighborhood with our version of a house-warming party," said Karina Sagiev, managing partner of Evans Real Estate Investments, as she cut the ribbon to officially open the firm's new Lincoln Center office. More than 100 guests explored the facilities, enjoyed food and wine, a permanent art display featuring Yeva Dashevsky's close-up photographs of Manhattan architecture, and entertainment by DJ MAC — an antique phonograph DJ who plays vintage records from the early 20th century.
