

Stan Barauskas received a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering, June 1961 at the New Jersey Institute of Technology. Born in Marijampole, Lithuania, January 30, 1939 he departed Lithuania May 1944. He immigrated to the Port Of New York, June 13, 1948 and resided in New Jersey from June 1948 To August 1961. Currently, he lives in Diamond Bar, CA.

Mr. Barauskas has 50 Years of design/development/certification of rocket engine and power systems. Some of his other work achievements are the Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile 1961-1963, General Dynamics/Astronautics, Upgrades to missile rocket engine and ground systems, Apollo, Skylab and Apollo-Soyuz Test Project 1963-1973, North American Aviation, Inc., Certification of attitude control rocket engine systems for lunar and orbital flight, Space Shuttle Orbiter Auxiliary Power Unit Subsystem 1973-2011, Rockwell/Boeing, Certification of hydraulic power systems for Space Shuttle orbital flight, Space Launch System Thrust Vector Control System, Boeing 2012-2013 and Design/development of of rocket engine thrust vector control systems for Space Launch System core stage

He received honors in: Astronaut Outstanding Achievement Snoopy Awards (First – Presented by NASA Astronauts Tom Stafford and Richard Truly, 1976), (Second – Presented by NASA Astronaut Mark Lee, 1994). Engineer of the Year Nominee Award, Rockwell, 1983 and Distinguished Alumnus Award, New Jersey Institute of Technology, 2011

Mr. Barauskas also volunteers as Vice-President, Aerospace Legacy Foundation, Downey, Ca, Director, Youth Motivation Task Force, Irvine, Ca, Vice-President, (Alt.) Boeing Management Club, Huntington Beach, Ca, Endeavour Space Shuttle Host, California Science Center, Los Angeles. Ca, Docent, Columbia Memorial Space Center, Downey, Ca, Volunteer, Autry National Center, Los Angeles, Ca, Trail Patroller, Chino Hills Recreation Dept., Chino Hills, Ca, Greeter, Chino Hills Calvary Chapel, Chino Hills, Ca, Media Distribution, Chino Hills Calvary Chapel, Chino Hills, Ca, Staff, and The Gary Bonner Singers Choir, Glendora, Ca

He was married to Elke Lynn, April 1964 (Deceased, August, 2011) Mr. Barauskas has 4 Daughters – Ingrid, Gina, Christina, Judy and 8 grandchildren: Matthew, Summer, Rachel, Joshua, Jordyn, Chase, Alex, Hannah

