Tell us about yourself	I was born and raised in Cleveland. I lived on the east coast for 20 years before returning to Cleveland in 1994. My three grown children are pursuing their careers in Washington, D.C. I am Director of External Affairs and Communications at Kent State University, a position I have held for almost 11 years. My area of focus is the College of Arts and Sciences and Specifically our STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) programs.
How long have you lived in Forest Hill? Why did you move here?	I have lived on Henley Road for over 10 years. After moving back to Cleveland in the 90s, I lived on the west side for a period of time, but it was not as cozy and inviting as Forest Hill. Forest Hill is a neighborhood I had long admired. It is beautiful, serene and historic. I enjoy the sense of community here.
Why do you want to be a trustee?	Forest Hill is at a turning point. There are many decisions that need to be made in terms of our municipality, infrastructure, and neighborhood. I would like the luxury of hearing what others are interested in and what their concerns are. In my role at Kent State, I am a communicator and bridge builder. I believe I can bring those skills to bear in Forest Hill to identify mutually beneficial and quantifiable goals and to serve as an advocate and ambassador for the community.
What will be your neighborhood focus as a trustee?	My goal is to take a global view toward making Forest Hill better on all fronts. There is not a lot of movement of new people coming in to Forest Hill so my real interest is in breathing new life into this community. We could benefit from fresh blood and new and enthusiastic neighbors. The only way we can do this is if the neighborhood puts its best foot forward. Houses need to be beautiful. Yards need to be well maintained. We are blessed to have many interesting people living here with a variety of worldviews and experiences. We need to do a better job showcasing Forest Hill as a multi-layered, cultural community.
