STONEHURST

1932

Immerse yourself in the natural beauty of Stonehurst.

Invisible from the street, this place of idyllic beauty sits on a secluded hilltop site amidst 109 acres of conservation land--away from it all, and yet so close to home.

Visit Stonehurst often throughout the seasons. Picnic on Glacier Rock, enjoy the rolling Olmsted-designed acres, try our new self-guided tours for kids and adults, preview exhibits, or hike on a branch of the new Western Greenway trail. Each time you will see it in a new light.

Join the life of this remarkable property by becoming a member of the Friends of Stonehurst. You will receive free house admission, semiannual newsletters, and 10% off Stonehurst merchandise – including our new, 40-page, full-color guidebook.
