Dirigo Food Safety and 3iVerify – a winning combination for FSVP and FSMA compliance

Primority Limited has signed a strategic partnership agreement with Dirigo Food Safety who will now be adopting Primority's award-winning compliance solution, 3iVerify, to support their food safety management, training and consulting services. Use of 3iVerify will make it even easier for Dirigo Food Safety's clients to comply with FDA's recently mandated Foreign Supplier Verification Program (FSVP) and other Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) supply chain requirements.

3iVerify is a secure, collaborative cloud hosted food safety management system that allows users to automate, update and manage all necessary compliance related information, pertaining to their supply chain. This information can relate to any aspect of the products or ingredients being purchased as well as relevant information relating to each individual supplier. 3iVerify provides a platform to create an integrated, fully compliant, food safety management system.

The alliance between Dirigo Food Safety and Primority Limited brings together a leading food safety management consultancy, specializing in Crisis Management, Food Safety Training, HACCP & SQF Compliance and Scalable Systems Consultation with a specialist software and consulting services company with over 25 years of industry experience.

In addition to their existing food safety and consulting offering, this alliance enhances Dirigo Food Safety's ability to offer its clients fully-managed consulting and assurance services built around the framework of supplier and materials verification, ensuring clients are fully compliant with FSVP and FSMA. For those clients who have the in-house resources to manage supplier and material approvals, 3iVerify can be provided as a stand-alone solution on a monthly subscription, that can be fully supported by Dirigo Food Safety and Primority.

On signing the agreement with Primority, Dr Michele Pfannenstiel, President and CEO of Dirigo Food Safety said, "We're excited to be partnering with Primority. This partnership will help ease the burden of compliance for our customers that are affected by the new supply chain requirements so they can do what they do best - making delicious and safe products for their customers."

James Flynn, Founder and CTO of Primority Limited added, "Primority is delighted to be partnering with Dirigo Food Safety and believes this alliance will add significant value for both parties, but more importantly, our customers. 3iVerify has been developed by our food safety experts who really understand the needs of food producers and food importers in meeting the standards of SQF, BRC, IFS and GFSI. Coupling this experience with the expertise of Dirigo Food Safety in all aspects of supplier & material approvals and food safety management in general, ensures that our clients need have no worries in meeting the food safety and compliance requirements of FSVP and FSMA."
