

Prophix Software is a leading developer of solutions designed to automate financial processes including budgeting, planning, reporting, analysis, and performance management for the mid-market. Thousands of finance leaders around the world use Prophix to empower their organization and gain greater insight into business performance. Prophix and its partners deliver the best value by combining high end functionality, low total cost of ownership, and the fastest implementations in its class.

Our success is a derivative of our people; we only hire the industry's best! Sales Talent Agency is always able to present extremely qualified candidates in a short period of time. Each candidate is sourced specifically for their skill set and experience.

Jamie Hoobanoff is our Account Manager; she's customized recruitment strategies specifically to our hiring and branding needs. She moves quickly and strategically, effectively communicated, and 100% impressed us with her ability to provide AMAZING candidates!

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Russell Burnett".

Russell Burnett

VP Sales

Prophix Software, Inc.