Denver Children’s Home Receives GuideStar’s Platinum Nonprofit Rating
GuideStar Platinum Rating Allows Donors to Focus on Progress and Results

(Denver, CO August 14, 2019) Denver Children’s Home (DCH) has earned the GuideStar Platinum Seal of Transparency, the highest level of recognition offered by the world's largest source of nonprofit information. This rating is meant to enable transparent reporting of an organization's actual impact in the world beyond simplistic financial ratios.

"DCH has long been committed to programs that provide real and measurable impact in children's lives and so we're excited to see an approach that allows impact reporting in a user friendly and highly visible manner," said DCH Executive Director Rebecca Hea, Psy.D, LP. "We are proud to share a wealth of current organizational data and metrics on a larger scale with our donors and the community."

To reach the Platinum Level, Denver Children’s Home added extensive information to its GuideStar nonprofit profile beyond basic content, organizational history or in-depth financial reports to include qualitative information about goals, strategies and capabilities as well as quantitative data about results and progress towards its mission. By taking the time to provide this information, DCH has demonstrated its commitment to transparency and to giving donors and funders meaningful data to evaluate nonprofit performance.

"In 2019, DCH celebrated its 143rd year of service in Colorado and surrounding states, and it is through the generous support of DCH's mission that it provides sustained assistance resulting in measurable impact in the lives of children and families," Development Director, Mike Horak, added. "I encourage you visit our GuideStar profile to see what we're all about."
